

Hope In Lebanon Rebellion

Hamarskjold Makes Effort To Settle Mid-East

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold arrived in Beirut today, bringing a glimmer of hope that he might end Lebanon's rebellion.

The international diplomat flew in at dawn from London and New York. His reputation in the Middle East for mediating ticklish quarrels gave Lebanese some hope he might succeed where others failed.

The crisis-ridden country has endured 41 days of fighting, bombing, shootings and strikes in an effort by opposition political factions to overthrow pro-Western President Camille Chamoun. The people are thoroughly fed up and are looking for any solution that will end the trouble.

Rebel leaders have promised a truce while Hammarskjold is here. A furious battle raged in Beirut yesterday, but government forces finally beat back the rebels and restored an uneasy quiet.

After a brief rest at his hotel, Hammarskjold began talks with Norwegian Maj. Gen. Odd Bull, former President Galo Plaza Lasufo Ecuador and former Indian Ambassador to the U.N. Reswaj Dayal—the three leaders of the U.N. observation team ordered by the Security Council to watch out for any aid to the rebels from the neighboring United Arab Republic.

As usual, Hammarskjold refused to comment to newsmen on his plans. There was speculation he might, after conferring with the Lebanese, go on to Cairo to talk with U.A.R. President Nasser.

Some 50 unarmed observers already are here to check Lebanon's 150-mile border with the Syrian province of the U.A.R. The Lebanese government feels, however, that observation is not enough.

It decided Tuesday to ask Hammarskjold for a sizable body of troops similar to the U.N. Emergency Force which separates Israeli and Egyptian soldiers along their border.

Street Bazaar Will Be Held July 26 and 27

The latter part of July the Street Bazaar will be held again and will be sponsored by the retail division of the Chamber of Commerce, of which William T. Solon is director and Bob Wall general chairman.

This proved to be so successful last year that plans are to make it even better this year. The two-day bazaar, when merchants will take their wares out to the sidewalks in front of their stores, will be held Monday and Tuesday, July 26 and 27, during the regular store hours, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Organizations are invited to join in again and put booths up along the streets. Any club or organization wanting to participate is asked to secure their spot for a booth from a merchant, then notify the Chamber of Commerce. Some have already contacted merchants for places for their stands and have listed them with the Chamber.

Drought Grips Korea And Parts of Japan

TOKYO (AP)—A severe drought today gripped South Korea and parts of Japan, threatening crops and water supplies.

Rationing may be necessary in this capital, which consumes 1,800,000 tons of water a day.

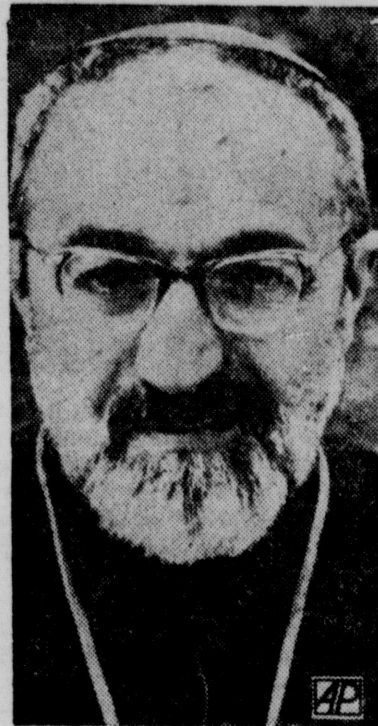

There are but 33 million tons of water in three reservoirs normally holding 200 million tons. Tokyo has had less than an inch of rain in the past 30 days, normally the rainy season.

The rainfall average in South Korea since May 1 is 1.6 inches, compared with the normal total of 9.2 inches for May and June.

Allen to Investigate Nude Painting Report

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP)—George V. Allen, chief of the U.S. Information Agency, arrived today to investigate a report to President Eisenhower by Sen. Styles Bridges (R-NH) concerning the U.S. World Fair pavilion.

The report said a painting of a woman nude to the waist was exhibited, that the painting section was of the "Grandma Moses type" and that a pool was covered with scum.

APPOINTED — Gregory Peter Cardinal Agagianian, above 62, was appointed Wednesday by Pope Pius XII as Pro-Prefect of the Congregation for the Propagation of the Faith. Cardinal Agagianian, patriarch of the Armenians, fills the Vatican post that was to have been taken by the late Samuel Cardinal Stritch of Chicago.

127 Missouri CAP Cadets At Whiteman

One hundred twenty-seven Civil Air Patrol Cadets of the Missouri Wing are attending the annual CAP Cadet Summer Encampment at Whiteman Air Force Base.

The cadets, boys and girls between the ages of 14 and 18, arrived at Whiteman on June 16. They were welcomed at the flight line by Lt. Col. Harry W. Robb, Deputy Base Commander. Also on hand to greet the cadets were Col. J. Orville Ladd, CAP, of Maryville, Missouri Wing Commander, and Lt. Col. Maurilius Sikorski, CAP, of St. Louis, CAP Encampment Commander.

Participating from the Sedalia Composite Squadron is William L. Holloway.

On the spot Air Force training will be offered the cadets during the 12-day encampment. The facilities, personnel and equipment of Whiteman AFB are being made available to the CAP cadets, which will augment the class training they have received prior to the encampment.

The training schedule includes familiarization with the B-47 and KC-97 aircraft, MTD engines, synthetic trainers, and the carbine and .45 caliber weapons. The cadets will receive demonstrations of parachute packing, judo, land and water survival, crash equipment, and radar approach control. They will attend lectures on security, First Aid, weather, operations.

Two Alcoa Escapees Captured, Returned

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—Two escapees from Alcoa Intermediate Reformatory were captured late yesterday and taken to Linn to face the possible Osage County charges for breaking into a cabin. The pair, Steve Melvin Dodson, 17, and Ralph Edward Reed, 18, got away from the reformatory Tuesday evening by climbing aboard a log that was floating down the Missouri River.

No Explanation for Leaving

Scientist, Missing 6 Years, Is Found Grooming Horses

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (AP)—One day six years ago Albert Clark Reed, a scientist at the California Institute of Technology, said goodbye to his wife, patted his son's head, left home — and disappeared.

The FBI, police, family and friends were baffled. The trail led 50 miles east to San Bernardino, then grew cold.

His wife, Florence, never gave up hope that he would return.

Yesterday he was discovered working as a groom at Hollywood Park.

"I don't know why I left," he told newsmen. "I was, I still am—hazy and confused."

"The day I left I sold my car, took a bus and went to Phoenix. I got a job handling freight."

Later he got a job handling horses and returned to California, working at various tracks. His identity was discovered through a routine fingerprint check. He was using the name Alfred C. Reese.

"I'm still stunned," he said, "but I'm getting to feel a gradual relief that I will no longer have to live with this secret."

He spoke of his wife: "Oh, we

Adams Is Still In Question

Usefulness In Position Could Harm President

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. William F. Knowland (R-Calif) said today there is a serious question whether Sherman Adams has so hurt his usefulness in his position that it will be harmful to the broad policies of President Eisenhower.

The Senate GOP leader told a news conference the question is one which both Gov. Adams and the President must carefully weigh.

Knowland made his comment in response to a question as to whether he believed Adams, the No. 1 aide to the President, should remove himself from the government.

Knowland said he did not believe the acceptance of gifts by public officials was good public policy in the previous Democratic administration.

And, he said, he adheres to that position as to the present administration.

Knowland said it was a mistake in judgment and not good public policy for Adams to accept gifts from Bernard Goldfine, a Boston industrialist.

Asked whether he would propose a code of conduct for state officials if successful in his campaign for governor of California, Knowland said he believes public officials should not accept gifts of this kind, and that applies to both state and federal officials.

Among congressional Republicans generally, the prevailing attitude seemed to be one of bowing to Eisenhower's decision to keep Adams on the job although many made it plain they aren't happy about it.

Republican state chairmen split over the question of Eisenhower's top aide. Some still insisted he should get out. Others supported Eisenhower's backing him. Many declined comment, but could agree with one of their number, Ray Bliss of Ohio, who said "I'm certain I'd rather it hadn't happened."

In New York, Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler left no doubt the Democrats will make a major political issue out of Adams' dealings with industrialist Bernard Goldfine of Boston. As to Eisenhower's insistence on keeping Adams as his chief assistant, Butler added:

"The President's own conduct makes him as morally responsible for this improper conduct as Mr. Adams is himself."

Adams has testified he accepted gifts and favors from Goldfine, a family friend, and also contacted two federal agencies studying complaints against Goldfine's companies. But he said there was no connection and he had no intent to win favored treatment for Goldfine.

Eisenhower agreed with Adams' concession that he could have "acted a little more prudently," but said he admired and respected his chief aide for ability and integrity.

"I need him," Eisenhower added.

LEBANESE REBELS WRECK PRIME MINISTER'S HOME—Men, described as Lebanese rebels, point their automatic weapons in the direction of wreckage of the home of Prime Minister Sami Solh in Beirut. The house was sacked and set fire by the insurgents. Solh was not in the house at the time of the attack. Dr. Schenk Speaks

Recreation Committee Hears Talk on Planning

Planning and education were the keynote ideas expressed by Dr. Quentin F. Schenk of Missouri University at the Community Recreation meeting held Wednesday evening in the assembly room of the court house.

"Planning is not a visionary or impractical procedure. It provides framework, generates democratic cooperation and provides flexibility for individual initiative and energy. Communities cannot afford not to plan, and as one authority puts it, 'Planning, after all, is figuring out the best way to get the best results with the smallest expenditure of money and effort.'"

"Recreation planning is but a part of general social planning as recreation cannot be separated from group living. Just as communities plan for food and clothing store, governmental agencies, schools, homes, libraries, etc., likewise must they plan for recreation, and the plan must be built around the general needs of people of varied ages and interests, providing a sufficiently wide range of opportunities to satisfy them. Planning for Sedalia must be for the needs of Sedalians and not taken directly from plans that may have worked in other towns."

The group assembled, representing numerous organizations in the city was told that two way communication must be maintained in presenting the plan to the public. First, the Executive Committee should keep this representative committee well informed as to the work that is being accomplished and the committee should take this information back to their organizations for discussion and advise the public of the need and the method in which it was being handled.

After Dr. Schenk's remarks a discussion period followed with numerous questions and comments. Capt. Louie Elliott from Mark Twain P.T.A. made the suggestions that the Executive Committee proceed from where they were with the information at hand to lay the ground work, and that existing recreational facilities be included in the over all program. Dr. Schenk, associate professor of social work at the University

Provides Greek, Turkish Participation

Macmillan Announces 7-Year Plan for Future of Cyprus

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Macmillan announced today a seven-year plan for the future of Cyprus which provides for participation of Greek and Turkish governments in the administration of the island.

Macmillan described the proposal to the House of Commons as an adventure in partnership.

He promised that cessation of violence in Cyprus — a British crown colony populated by 400,000 persons of Greek descent and 100,000 of Turkish descent—would bring a relaxation of emergency regulations, including return of Cypriots now excluded from the island.

While he named no names, this reference was taken to mean that Archbishop Makarios, leader of the Greek Cypriot community, would be allowed to return to Cyprus when order is restored. He is now an exile in Greece.

The Prime Minister said it is deeply to be regretted that all attempts for settlement of the Cyprus problem have thus far proved unsuccessful.

Greek Cypriots want the island to become Greek. Turks want the island partitioned. The dispute has

Congressional Probe Over Contract Hinted

Stung By Trujillo Criticism

Dominican Republic Asks Halt of US Aid

CIUDAD TRUJILLO, Dominican Republic (AP)—Stung by criticism in the American Congress of young Rafael Trujillo's playboy habits, the Dominican Congress has asked the government to pull out of all U. S. aid agreements.

Under one of the pacts the United States maintains a station in the Caribbean republic to track its guided missiles.

The Dominican Congress, a rubber stamp for Dictator-Generalissimo Rafael Trujillo Sr., made no mention of the fancy presents Lt. Gen. Trujillo Jr. gave to movie actresses Zsa Zsa Gabor and Kim Novak.

Instead in its resolution Congress said "the attacks that some (U. S.) congressmen have directed against the Dominican Republic in terms offensive to her national dignity would not have occurred" if U. S. aid had not been accepted.

The resolution forwarded to President Hector Trujillo, the generalissimo's brother, asked for an end to agreements providing U. S. military aid of $600,000 a year; technical assistance, and cooperation on peaceful uses of atomic energy.

If the Trujillos cancel the missile-tracking agreement, the United States could look next door to Haiti, which has offered to serve as a tracking base.

Young Trujillo at 29 is head of the Dominican air force and this week was made head of the combined chiefs of staff. U. S. congressmen first criticized him for his lavish expenditures in Hollywood when he was supposed to be attending the U. S. Army's

New Scout Troop Formed; To Have Social Tomorrow

Sedalia now has a new Boy Scout troop, Troop 53, which has inaugurated as its first major project an ice cream social to be at the Courthouse parking lot Friday afternoon, June 20. The social is scheduled to start at five o'clock, continuing until about 9 p.m.

The new troop will make its headquarters at Jefferson School. There has never been a troop in this district previously, although the idea for one has been in the minds of many for several years. Now, due to the instrumental efforts of Officer Riley of the Sedalia Police Department, Police Chief Ralph Hamlin, and of their supporters, the new troop has officially been formed. The Police Department is backing the new unit all the way, one for which a bright future is seen.

The public is invited to attend the social Friday.

Volunteer For Test; Get Drunk Wednesday

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Ten men volunteered to get drunk Wednesday night and some did.

Dist. Atty. Edward C. Boyle put out a call for volunteers to test a machine designed to measure how much a man can drink before he's intoxicated. Boyle had no trouble lining up the volunteers.

He didn't reveal the effectiveness of the tests. But he said that after the happy volunteers had finished off a supply of beer and whisky all were sent home in taxicabs.

Command and General Staff School in Leavenworth, Kan. The Dominican government countered that Trujillo was a rich man and was spending his own money.

Things might have calmed down if Rep. Charles B. Brownson, an Indiana Republican, hadn't revealed last week that Trujillo Jr. wasn't graduating from Leavenworth because he hadn't finished the course. The generalissimo retaliated with an anti-U. S. blast, ordered 30 Dominican cadets and officers out of U. S. military schools, and summoned his Congress to act.

Farmers Will Vote on Wheat Support Price

Two-Thirds of The Farmers Must Vote To Keep Support

Wheat farmers will decide Friday whether they will get an average support price of $1.81 a bushel for wheat next year, or risk $1.00 a bushel in the open market. Two-thirds of the voting farmers must approve continuation of the support price program if next year's wheat price is to be pegged at a guarantee of $1.81 a bushel.

Last year the nation's wheat farmers voted 6 to 1 in favor of the program. In Missouri the favorable vote was 78.9% of all those cast.

The issue transcends party lines. Republican Senators Edward Thye and Karl Mundt and Democratic Senators Hubert Humphrey, Henry Jackson and James Murray have advised farmers to vote "yes". Fred V. Heinkel, president of the Missouri Farmers Association, said "I see no alternative but for farmers to vote 'yes.'"

A sampling of opinion of farmers regarding the wheat referendum indicates most of them will vote in favor of referendum but many of them had individual grievances or were not happy with the alternatives offered in the referendum.

Hugo Schnakenberg, Cole Camp, declared, "I think they (farmers) will vote heavily in favor because they would rather have that than nothing—although it is mostly for the big operators."

Donald E. Rages, Star Route, Smithton, replied: "I will not be eligible to vote as the farm I am operating has an allotment of less than 15 acres. Farmers in general will benefit by passage."

Henry G. Bucksath, Route 2, Slater, said "I think it is the only way to hold up prices."

C. W. Sheppard, Route 4, Warrensburg, thinks farmers should vote favorably for wheat marketing quotas.

Boys' State Holds General Election

WARRENSBURG, (AP)—The Missouri Boys State general election, sponsored by the American Legion takes place today.

A slate of candidates was chosen yesterday by each of the two parties. Jerry Calvin Harrison of Richmond, Mo., was chosen to head the Nationalist ticket. Michael D. Garrett of Monett, Mo., became the nominee for governor under the Federalist slate.

'Warrants Investigation' Says Multer

Conversation Shows Sedalia Company Won't Get Contract

By JOE DEAR
Of Our Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON — The chairman of the House Small Business Subcommittee today hinted there may be a congressional investigation of a contract which was denied a Sedalia firm by the Small Business Administration.

Rep. Abraham Multer (D-N.Y.) told Small Business Administrator Wendell Barnes the representations which won the U.M. & F. Company of Dallas a contract to manufacture $272,000 of metal cabinets to house electronic equipment "warrants investigation."

The U.M. & F. Company edged out the National Engineering & Manufacturing Company of Sedalia by less than $10,000. Barnes at first ruled that the Sedalia firm should have received the contract under the set-aside procurement program, which earmarks a portion of the government's business for smaller industrial concerns.

Barnes told Rep. Multer, at a subcommittee hearing, that he finally ruled in favor of the Dallas firm because of the information it supplied in three affidavits. At issue was whether the Dallas firm could qualify as a small business.

Some U.M. & F. directors are associated with Clint Murchison, a Texas oilman with diverse business interests. A Murchison company also has a substantial stock holding in U.M. & F.

Barnes, who told the subcommittee he was an independent oil contractor in Texas before coming to Washington, said the affidavits supplied by U.M. & F. carried great weight with him. He noted that anyone who swore falsely in an affidavit would be liable to prosecution by the Justice Department. He indicated doubt that a responsible businessman would expose himself to such danger.

Barnes also told the subcommittee that a representative of National Engineering and Manufacturing was "abusive and threatening."

After the hearing, Vernon Rodick, president of the Sedalia firm, assured Barnes no representative of the firm had intended offense.

Barnes also complained of the national publicity given the case by columnist Drew Pearson. Rodick said Pearson had not obtained his information from the company.

The conversation between Rodick and Barnes, in which Rodick's Washington lawyer Paul O'Brien, participated, made it clear that the Sedalia firm will not get this contract even if the award to U.M. & F. is upset.

Mrs. McElroy Receives Free Dental Treatment

WASHINGTON (AP)—Mrs. Neil McElroy, wife of the secretary of defense, recently received free dental treatment at Walter Reed Army Hospital, but McElroy says free treatment is normal procedure for wives of Cabinet officials.

An Army spokesman said he could not determine the cost of the minor dental surgery done for Mrs. McElroy.

McElroy said Mrs. McElroy normally is treated by a dentist in Cincinnati. But, he added, she doesn't get to Cincinnati often except on weekends when the dentist's office is closed and the dental surgery was something that had to be done.

Juryman Gets Message; His Cow Is Better

STURGEON BAY, Wis. (AP)—Farmer Clarence Destree, member of a jury locked up while hearing a murder trial here, got a message from the outside despite the presiding judge's warning against such communications. He got it from the judge himself. "In the presence of this entire court," Judge Arnold Murphy said at day's end Wednesday, "I want to give a message to Mr. Destree: The cow that was ill is better."

Whole Farms Could Go Into Bank

Land Retirement Program May Take Many Off Farms

WASHINGTON (AP)—The 1959 version of the government's soil bank land retirement program may get thousands of farmers out of agriculture.

The way the program is being set up, rates offered by the Agriculture Department for renting land favor the withdrawal of whole farms from production.

The department is offering rates averaging $13.50 an acre rent on land used during the past two years to grow grains, oilseeds and row crops, and not more than $7.75 for land which has been used principally for hay and pastures.

Youngsters Give Descriptions Of Everyday Things

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—Arms are to hold your hands on.

"Eyebrows are something women shave off."

"Little stones are big rocks chopped up."

These words are the freshest words of all for they came from the mouths of babes.

Helen G. Meyers, supervisor of elementary education here, was captivated by the talk and writings of first graders—uninhibited, cliché-free, straight to the point.

Over a two-year period she collected the youngsters' descriptions of everyday things.

Among them:

"Cats are for dogs to chase."

"Dogs are made to like people."

"A door is to answer."

"A dream is something you think when you're asleep."

"Ears are something that big people put hearing things on."

"Ears are to wiggle."

"A face is a thing that holds your head and hair in place."

"Mashed potatoes are things to have steak and gravy with."

"Mountains are a place that's hard to go up but easy to come down."

"A package is something to say, Yoo hoo! Look what I got."

The world is something to come down to after you've been up in space."

Bank Will Slash Rates To Encourage Major Installment Purchases

PAINESVILLE, Ohio (AP)—To encourage consumers in making major installment purchases, the Lake County National Bank will issue loans for that purpose next week at one-half the usual rate.

Glick Shultz, president, said Wednesday night.

The half-rate interest will apply to loans for purchases made in Lake County such as boats, automobile improvements.

Rates vary depending upon what the loan is used for. But the interest rate on a new car, for instance, is around 6 per cent.

Flag Day Observance Held by DAR

The annual Flag Day observance by Osage Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, was held Saturday, June 14th, at Flat Creek Inn with a large number of members and guests attending.

The meeting opened with a tribute to the flag by Miss Nell Longan who read a poem, "I Am The Flag" by Ruth Apperson Rous. She also led the group in the pledge of allegiance and the American's Creed.

Mrs. Herbert Mason, chairman, presented Mrs. P. A. Sillers, who spoke on "The History of the American Flag", illustrating her talk with colorful handmade paper flags. "Flags are symbols of man's ideals," said Mrs. Sillers, "from the time of Columbus up to the present day." She showed how the flags of the many countries exploring and establishing colonies in America had influenced our present flag. The Spanish flag flew from Columbus' ships, the red cross of St. George flew from the Mayflower, each of the Colonies used the flag of the country from which they came. The pine tree flag was symbolic of the England states the coiled rattle snake, "don't tread on me" flag of South Carolina, and the "Liberty or Death" flag of Patrick Henry were all used in America prior to the Revolutionary War.

General Washington asked Betsy Ross to design a flag that would represent the 13 colonies, thus our present stars and stripes was born. In 1818 Congress adopted the plan to let the 13 stripes represent the 13 original colonies and that a star be added for each state. We now have 48 stars, with the possibility of two more when the territories of Alaska and Hawaii are admitted. The Confederate flag and the Lone Star of Texas have also flown within our boundaries.

Mrs. L. H. Hodges, chapter regent, presided over the business meeting at which time the officers and committee chairmen made reports for the past year.

Mrs. Guy Berry was introduced as the guest of Miss Jessie Brown-eller. Mrs. P. A. Sillers was a guest of the club. A memorial service was given for Mrs. Isabel Dugan by the chaplain, Mrs. P. L. Strole.

The new officers for the next two years were installed by the out-going regent, Mrs. Hodges and the chaplain, Mrs. Strole. Brings New Information On Goldfine

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Oren Harris (D-Ark.) said today his House investigations have come up with some "very interesting" new information from their first look at records of Bernard Goldfine.

Harris declined to say what the new information involves or how it will fit into his subcommittee's inquiry. That group is looking in to whether Goldfine, a Boston industrialist and longtime friend of Sherman Adams, got favored treatment from the Federal Trade Commission and the Securities and Exchange Commission.

But the Arkansas Democrat disputed a White House contention that no FTC rules were broken when Adams, President Eisenhower's top aide, passed on to Goldfine a memo from the FTC chairman.

The memo, dated Jan. 4, 1954, dealt with an FTC move against what was alleged to be mislabeling of fabrics by a Goldfine textile for Goldfine, late Tuesday after a subcommittee struggle with Goldfine's lawyers. The investigators are checking the data before resuming hearings next week.

The records reflect, among other things, Goldfine's payments of hotel bills in Boston, New York and Plymouth, Mass. Adams has acknowledged staying at hotels in those cities at Goldfine's expense but denied he sought or obtained special treatment for Goldfine at the federal agencies.

Harris Wednesday left it open as to whether his group would ask Eisenhower for permission to look at tax records. The Treasury Department, which would first get such a request, said none had been received so far.

Miss Paperman said bills at Boston's Sheraton Plaza Hotel were charged to a Goldfine bill. Rep. John B. Bennett (R-Mich.) is pushing for a reply as to whether Goldfine listed as a business expense the more than $1,600 in bills run up by Adams there.

Goldfine was quoted by the Boston Record as announcing his willingness to come before the subcommittee and tell all he knows.

Ike Sees Business Improving

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower told Republican state chairmen today that there are very clear indications business conditions are improving.

He also was reported to have told the state leaders at a breakfast meeting that he strongly believes in maintaining the nation's security and solvency.

Republican National Chairman Meade ALCORN, talking to reporters after the closed session at a downtown hotel, said the issue over Sherman Adams was not mentioned by either the President or the state chairmen.

Some of the party officials have been calling for the resignation of Adams, the President's chief aide, in the wake of disclosures of Adams' relations with Boston industrialist Bernard Goldfine.

ALCORN said it was in answer to a query from one of the state chairmen that Eisenhower talked of indications of a business upswing.

ALCORN gave no further details. The state leaders are here attending a three-day campaign school conducted by the GOP National Committee. Their sessions are closed to newsmen.

The President did not say whether he would take part in the coming campaign, ALCORN added. About 43 of the state chairmen were present.

Space Head Says Rocket to Venus, Mars in Future

KANSAS CITY, (AP)—Within five years rocket ships equipped with instruments could scan Mars and Venus, Dr. Simon Ramo, president of Space Technology Laboratories, said yesterday.

"With the present hardware we have available for intercontinental ballistic missiles, we have the ability to undertake such a venture if we desire to do it," Dr. Ramo said.

Dr. Ramo also said a radio-controlled ship could land on Mars or Venus and return. The feat would not present the problems of sending a man aloft, he said. He added, however, that man will go into space because there's no way to stop him.

The remarks were made in a press conference after an address before the International Circulation Managers Assn.

The association elected as its new president James M. Rankin, vice president of the Topeka Newspaper Printing Co.

Raymond W. Gilliland of the Lancaster, Pa., was named "Circulation Man of the Year" in an award presented by Editor Publisher, a magazine for journalists. Gilliland developed a training course for newspaper salesmen, district managers and carriers.

To Try Crossing Atlantic Ocean In Motor Boat

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—An admiral in the Texas navy headed for Boston today with an outboard motor boat in which he plans to try to cross the Atlantic.

"With a lot of luck and the right kind of weather, we might make it," says James Pirtle, 30.

Roy Sutter of the nearby Lindborg community will meet Sutter in Boston and make the trip with him. If and when they get to England, Sutter hopes to swim the English Channel.

They are using an 18-foot outboard motor cruiser powered by two engines. It was built equipped with special tanks to carry 300 gallons of fuel.

Pirtle said no one has ever tried it before "and I guess I want to be in on something that's never been done before."

Pirtle served three years with the Navy in World War II. He hopes to arrange sponsors for navigational equipment and fuel. He has a book on small boat seamanship.

Pirtle said he hopes to leave about July 1.

"We have a tentative route that will take us by way of Newfoundland, Greenland, Iceland, Scotland and on to London," he said.

Pirtle operates a landscaping and trucking business. He has a wife and a boy, 4. Last week he and Sutter were presented commissions as admirals in the Texas navy by Gov. Price Daniel.

Requests Return Of Teacher; Was Not Un-American

HANOVER, N.J. (AP)—The Hanover Park Regional School Board, ruling that a teacher cannot be punished for what her students think, has asked LeMoine Goodman to return to her teaching job next fall.

In a 17-page report read at a public meeting here Wednesday night, the board declared:

"In no way has Miss Goodman's conduct been Un-American or unpatriotic."

The board's decision climaxed a controversy that erupted when the 26-year-old teacher published three student essays in "Triad," the Hanover Park High School monthly publication.

The essays, selected from about 60 written by Miss Goodman's English class, were highly critical of the atom bombing of Hiroshima. The students had read "Hiroshima," the Pulitzer prize-winning book by John Hersey.

Veterans groups demanded Miss Goodman's ouster.

Miss Goodman submitted her resignation last June 11. The tall, soft-spoken blonde said that she had been guilty of an "error in judgment."

In asking her to return, the board said Miss Goodman had erred in not publishing an editors note with the essays to explain the context in which they were being offered.

Church Appoints W. Wallace Smith New President

INDEPENDENCE, Mo. (AP)—The Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints announced today that W. Wallace Smith has been designated to become president of the church.

He will succeed his half-brother, Israel A. Smith, 82, who was killed last Saturday in a highway accident. Wallace Smith has been a member of the first presidency and as such was a counselor to the late president.

Wallace Smith formerly was in the hardware business in Independence. He is 57 years old and a grandson of Joseph Smith Jr., founder of the Mormon faith.

Smith is a 1923 graduate of the University of Missouri. He was a college football and basketball player.

Church officials yesterday learned that Israel Smith left a document requesting the designation of his half-brother as head of the church. Its international headquarters are in Independence.

The spokesman said the designation will be presented for approval to quorums and councils of the church and to the general conference of delegates and ministers when they convene Oct. 5.

Law Will Allow State To Charge Patients

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—Last Aug. 29 a new law became effective allowing the state to charge pay patients up to the amount of costs at state mental hospitals.

Today Atty. Gen. John M. Dalton held that there was no contract with the patient so the state can increase the charge to fit the new law.

In another opinion Dalton held that even if another state's parolee committed a gross violation of his parole this state's Board of Probation and Parole could not summarily arrest him.

Under the Interstate Parole Compact, the attorney general said, Missouri may supervise a parolee from another state. But without express request from the paroling state Missouri can't pick the man up for a violation here.

Senate May Reject Tax Cut Efforts

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate appeared likely today to reject all tax cutting efforts and pass a bill to extend present corporation and major excise tax rates for another year.

That action would send the measure to President Eisenhower well in advance of the June 30 date, the levies would drop automatically. The House already has passed the bill.

Before debate began yesterday, one amendment had appeared to have a chance of adoption—a proposal to eliminate the 3 per cent freight tax and the 10 per cent levy on passenger travel.

But sponsors of this amendment conceded it had lost considerable ground because of combined pressure from the Eisenhower administration and Democratic and Republican Senate leaders against it.

Before reaching it, the Senate considers an amendment by Sen. Pat McNamara (D-Mich.) to end the 10 per cent tax on automobiles and halve a similar levy on trucks.

Supporters held little hope it would be adopted.

The Senate defeated 65-23 yesterday the first floor amendment—a proposal of Sen. Paul H. Douglas (D-Ill.) for a six-billion-dollar tax cut to stimulate business in the recession.

Sen. Harry F. Byrd, (D-Va.) floor manager for the bill, said this could lead to an 18-billion-dollar federal deficit in the next year and require a boost in the debt limit to 300 billion dollars.

Sen. George A. Smathers (D-Fla.), a chief backer of the transportation tax repealer, told newsmen that proposed amendment "is in grave danger."

Smathers said an effort might be made to separate the two parts of the amendment. In that case, he predicted the freight tax repealer would get the biggest vote.

The freight levy brings in about 470 millions of annual revenue, the passenger tax about 215 millions.

Douglas, arguing for his broader proposals said he believed the unemployment situation would grow worse in the next month. In such a situation, he said, "failure to cut taxes is a great act of human folly."

Byrd said adoption of the amendment probably would cause "terrific inflation." If an 18-billion-dollar deficit resulted next year, he added: "I doubt if any senator living on this floor will live to see a balanced budget again."

Survey Shows Milk Retail Prices Are Up

WASHINGTON, (AP)—An Agriculture Department survey showed today that retail milk prices have risen in the last year despite a drop in dairy price supports.

The department said that in 25 representative marketing areas of the country, retail prices of home-delivered fluid milk averaged 25 cents a quart. This was seven-tenths of a cent above the average of a year earlier.

On the other hand, Kansas City and Seattle reported a one-cent decline from a year ago.

Man's Body Is Found Lodged Under Barge

KANSAS CITY (AP)—A man's body was found today partly lodged under a barge tied up on the Missouri River.

It apparently had been in the water a long time. The man was described as about 5 feet 11 inches tall, between 35 and 55 years old with graying hair. He weighed 130 to 140 pounds.

Contest Is Underway

Flower's Is Headquarters For The Christmas Doll Contest

Flower's has been chosen for the second consecutive year as regional headquarters for the eighth annual Christmas Doll Contest sponsored by Seventeen magazine.

Last year many teenage girls in this area made dolls from a small plastic doll face and a white sock that amazed the grown-ups who saw them. Imagination ran wild with the youngsters who came out with an assortment of dolls far surpassing many sold in stores. In several cases they had completely changed the expression of the plastic face and sometimes the color to suit the race they were trying to represent.

This is not just a contest. It is a fascinating challenge to young girls to see what they can do with only a little plastic face and a white sock.

There are three classes, fashion dolls, character dolls and baby dolls, and last year a Sedalia teenager, Glenda Reed, received honorable mention nationally in the fashion class with a bride doll.

There are local prizes as well as national prizes for the best time.

Curtis Carroll Scott, 23, Knob Noster, was being held in the Johnson County Jail at Warrensburg in connection with the robbery of the APCO service station in Knob Noster Sunday night.

Scott admitted the theft to Sheriff William O. Fortney and Roy A. Jones, prosecuting attorney, and gave a written statement of the occurrence.

A total of $311.36 was taken from a cash register in the filling station and an estimated $30 from a cigarette machine.

Leroy Noble, Route 1, Leeton, is being held in the Johnson County Jail in Warrensburg to await trial in the circuit court in the October term on a charge of rape, after he waived a preliminary examination in magistrate court Tuesday on the charge and failed to post $5,000 appearance bond.

Noble is charged with raping the 16-year-old wife of a Whiteman Air Force Base airman in a deserted house near the Knob Noster State Park Friday afternoon after he lured the girl there by telling her he needed a baby sitter.

Prosecuting Attorney Roy A. Jones said Noble signed a statement admitting the deed and appeared penitent.

Noble was arrested Monday afternoon by Deputy Sheriff Robert D. Williams and State Trooper Lyle D. Krumme in Warrensburg after Noble had been identified by a description given by the girl as well as his name, which he gave her.

Recreation and special events will be offered the cadets as well as the Air Force training. The base Service Club, pool and theater are available for their use. Two dances and a picnic have been scheduled for their enjoyment.

Visitors Day at the encampment for parents and other special guests will be June 21. A Review and drill ceremonies will highlight the day.

Transported to the encampment in Air Force aircraft based at Whiteman AFB, the cadets represent 22 squadrons and flights throughout the Missouri Wing.

The Christmas doll contest is a goodwill competition, conducted for the benefit of Foster Parents' Plan, Inc., which provides underprivileged children overseas with dolls made by American teenage girls. For many of these children it is their first doll, so it is not only the fact that the teenager has an opportunity to win one of the local prizes and perhaps a national prize, a trip to New York and maybe a trip to Europe, but every one has a chance to make some little girl or boy in a foreign country happy at Christmas time.

Bothwell Coffee Shop Remodeling To Begin Monday

The remodeling of the Bothwell Hotel Coffee Shop, which will give Sedalia one of the most modern and beautiful dining places in this part of the country, will begin Monday, according to William Keim, traveling manager.

The Dean Construction Company has the contract for the remodeling. According to Harold Dean, the work should be completed at least two weeks before Fair Week.

Keim stated that for a time the customers of the Bothwell Coffee Shop will be inconvenienced as the remodeling is being done, and it will be necessary to serve in the Palm Room next to the Coffee Shop and the Lounge Bar, even-possibly the mezzanine, although they will not use the latter unless there is urgent need. However, he went on to say that it is like highways — there must be inconveniences of detours during the time of construction of new roads, but the wonderful highway after it is done is well worth it. He feels that the Coffee Shop will be well worth it, too, with distinctive elegance and, yet, where all will feel comfortable.

The date for the remodeling was originally set for May 15th, but there was a delay in getting materials. At the present time the manager of the Bothwell Hotel, Curt Weaver, is a patient in the Bothwell Memorial Hospital, where he has been seriously ill for the past several weeks. His condition is improved.

To Go to Trial For Slaying Of Football Player

BENTON, Mo. (AP) — Lynn Wayne Hester, an 18-year-old St. Louis youth, will go on trial tomorrow for the slaying of a Charleston, Mo., high school football star more than a year ago.

Pros. Atty. Weber Gilmore said he will ask the death penalty in the circuit court trial.

The football star, John Malugen, was shot to death Jan. 5, 1957, as he was parked on a lonely road near Sikeston, Mo., with a girl companion. The girl was then dragged across a cotton field to an abandoned cabin and raped.

Sheriff John Dennis said Hester has signed a statement admitting the slaying. Joe Lester Slayton of Chaffee, Mo., identified as Hester's companion, later admitted the attack on the girl, county officers said.

Hester was arrested at his home in Wellston, a St. Louis suburb, after Slayton, an inmate at the State Training School in Boonville, had written his mother in Chaffee telling of the shooting and implicating Hester.

George W. Ray, temporary co-chairman called the meeting to order, followed by the reading of the minutes of May 14 meeting which were read and approved.

Mr. Ray went further to explain that since the May 14 meeting the Executive Committee had met and as they were empowered to select their chairman, they had decided on co-chairmen.

Jack Cunningham was one that had been selected and was presented to the group. Cunningham made a brief talk, indicating he would accept the responsibility.

A brief count of the questionnaires returned showed over one thousand, or one third, of those distributed had been returned. Those who have not mailed them may do so by addressing to Box 269 and the results will be tabulated within the near future.

Future meetings will be announced as the occasion arises.

'Twenty One' Has Fired Its Show Director

NEW YORK (AP) — The director of the televised quiz show "Twenty-one" was out of a job today. He was fired after refusing to tell the House Un-American Activities Committee whether he has a past Communist record.

The director, Charles S. Dubin, was questioned Wednesday as the committee opened public hearings into communism in show business. Nine persons in the industry were questioned.

Another questioned was Arthur Lief, American guest conductor of the Moiseyev Russian ballet, now touring this country and playing to packed houses. Lief refused to say if he is presently a Communist party member.

Dubin told the committee he is not now a member of the party, but said he would invoke the Fifth Amendment if asked about past associations.

The National Broadcasting Co. immediately barred Dubin from its facilities. The producers of the quiz show, Jack Barry and Dan Enright, followed suit by firing Dubin.

NBC said "persons who refuse to testify as to their present or past affiliation with the Communist party render themselves unacceptable as . . . employees on NBC programs."

Dubin, a free-lance, also has directed or helped to direct "The Investigator" and parts of the "Omnibus" program.

NBC's action also apparently meant that Dubin will not get the job of producer-director of the Dinah Shore show next season—a position paying $3,200 a week. Dubin confirmed reports that he had been considered for the job.

Lief said he got the job as guest conductor with the Moiseyev troupe by applying to Sol Hurok, the impresario who brought the sensational dance group to this country.

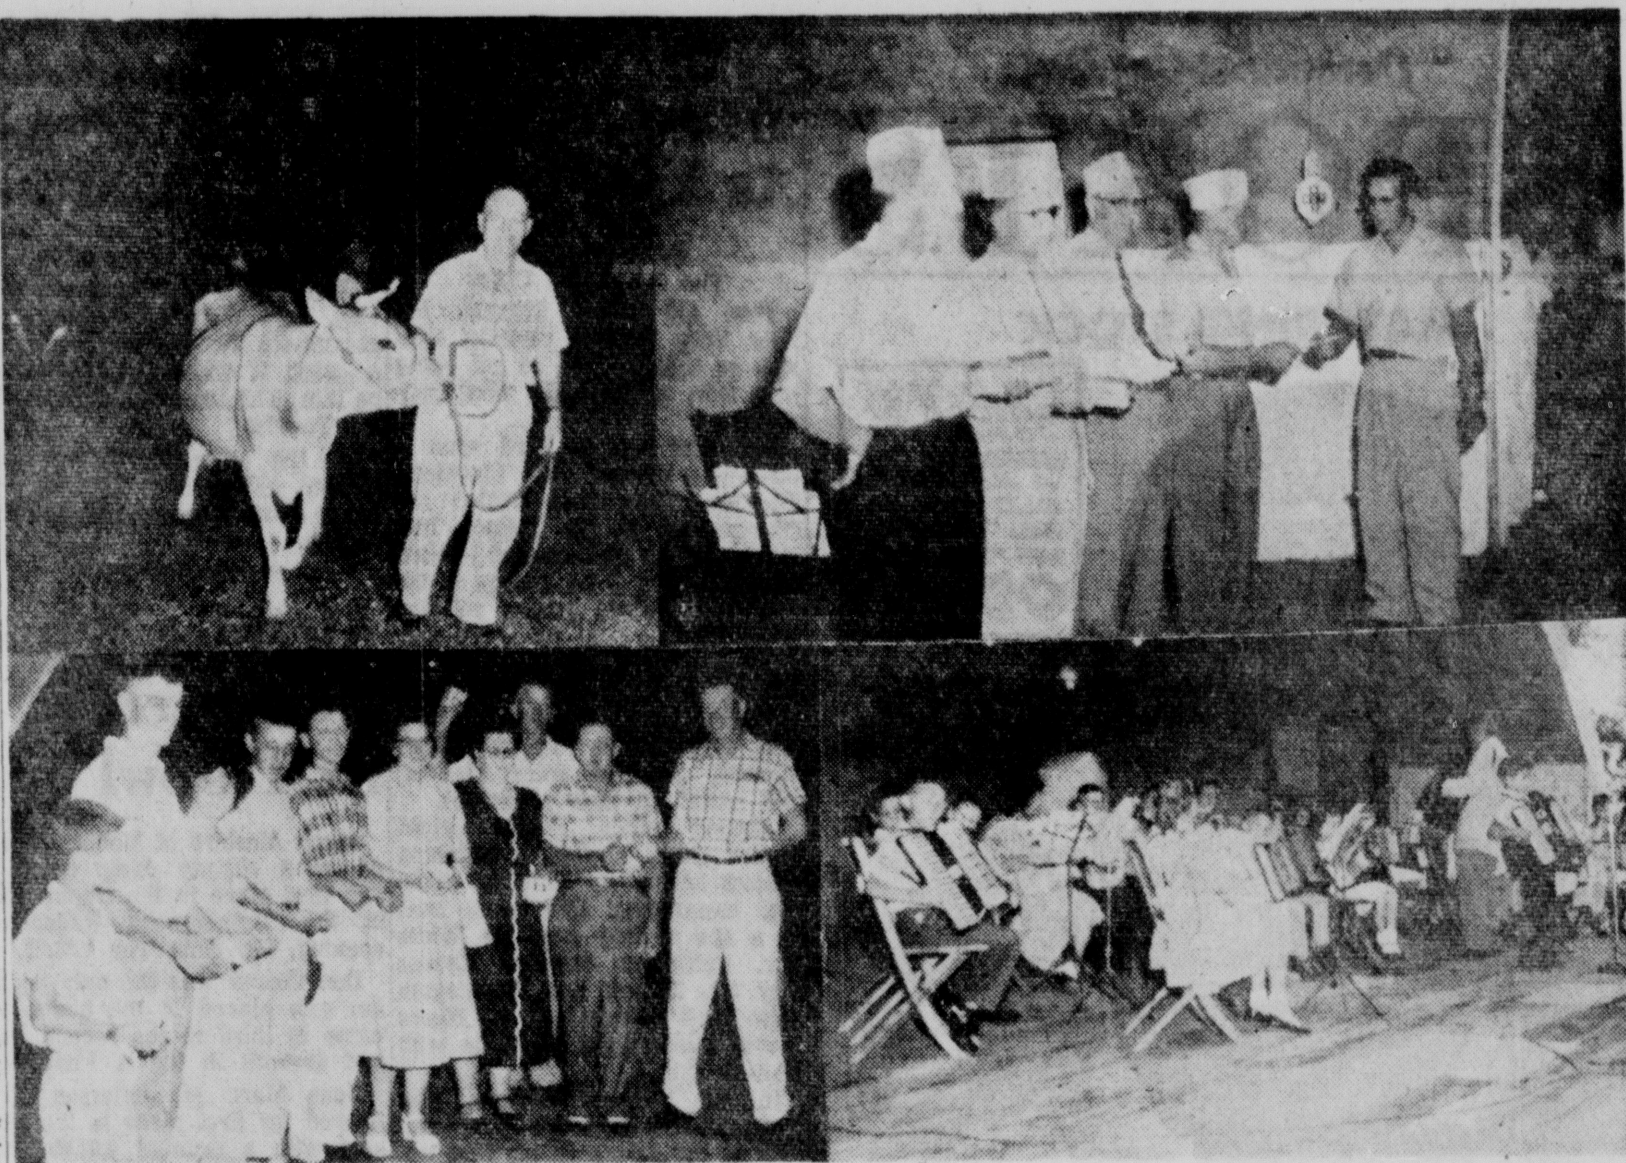

The conductor refused to say if he had discussed his political views with Hurok or whether any Communists had helped him get the job.

Symington, Hennings Seek Funds for Dam

WASHINGTON, (AP) — Sens. Thomas C. Hennings and Stuart Symington of Missouri yesterday asked a Senate appropriations subcommittee for approval of money for construction of the Chain of Rocks Dam and a Meramec river basin study in Missouri.

Neither project was in a bill approved June 9 by the House appropriations committee. The senators asked the subcommittee to approve one million dollars for work on the Chain of Rocks Dam on the Mississippi River in the year starting July 1. They asked $150,000 for the Meramec study to determine the need for three flood control reservoirs in the Meramec Basin.

Post Cereal Heiress Weds Industrialist

WOODBINE, Md. (AP) — Mrs. Marjorie Merriweather Post, wealthy heiress to the Post cereal fortune, married Pittsburgh industrialist Herbert A. May yesterday.

The quiet wedding took place in the home of the bride's eldest daughter, Mrs. Augustus Riggs IV, with only the children and grandchildren present.

The couple departed on a brief honeymoon. They plan to give a reception in Pittsburgh June 23 at May's home. Another reception will follow at Mrs. May's Washington home June 26. A few days later the couple will leave on a cruise.

The bride is the daughter of Charles William Post, founder of the cereal firm, and reportedly is worth more than 250 million dollars. May is a senior vice president of Westinghouse Air Brake Co.

They were married by the Rev. T. A. Little Jr., of the Sykesville, Md., Presbyterian church.

The bride was given in marriage by her son-in-law, Stanley Rumbough Jr., of New York and attended by Mrs. Riggs, Herbert A. May Jr. was best man for his father.

Those In Testing Area May Have More Rays

LOGAN, Utah (AP) — A Utah chemist says some 10,000 persons living in southern Utah not far from the Nevada atomic bomb test site may have absorbed about 30 times as much gamma ray irradiation as other persons in the United States.

Dr. Norman Bauer, Utah State University professor, told the Pacific Division of the American Assn. for the Advancement of Science meeting here that, depending on dietary habits of the residents, "this amount of local fallout would result in a more or less serious accumulation of strontium 90 in the bones within a decade or two."

Man Facing Robbery, Abduction Charges Flees Hospital in Gown

KANSAS CITY (AP) — A 35-year-old man charged with robbery and abduction escaped yesterday from a General Hospital ward, fleeing in a night gown and a leg iron.

Earl R. Wallace apparently used a wrench to pry loose a post from his iron bed. The leg iron was attached to the post and his ankle.

Wallace apparently escaped about 3 a.m. The policeman on duty in the ward said the prisoner was present for a 2:45 a.m. bed check.

Wallace was accused of abducting and robbing Miss Marilyn Moss, 37, here last January. Miss Moss was locked in the trunk of her car, but freed herself after the car was abandoned in a downtown parking lot.

Wallace was arrested in Denver last February. He was taken from the county jail to the hospital last Thursday for treatment of a leg injury.

Chiefs Meet Undeclared Holden Jays

So far as the Sedalia Chiefs are concerned the first half championship in the Western Division of the Central Missouri Ban Johnson League will be at stake tonight when the high flying Holden Jays, undefeated in BJ competition this season, invade Liberty Park to clash with the Sedalians.

Holden, paced by hurlers Mike Roberts and Merle Fink, has chalked up six straight victories over loop foes to take the lead. Sedalia is in second spot with a 5-1 record and could move into a first place tie with Holden. A loss would practically eliminate them from the pennant chance in the first half of play. Holden edged the Chiefs by one run when the two teams crossed bats for the first time this season at Holden on June 3.

"Stub" Roberts, well known field chief of the Holden club, is expected to nominate Merle Fink for the starting pitching assignment. Fink hurled against the locals at Holden. He was a member of the Central Missouri State College mound staff this spring.

For the Chiefs, Clyde Kubli will take the mound. Kubli, the loser at Holden, has chalked up two victories since then. He and Fink were teammates at CMSC.

Newk Proves A Winner Against Cards

By ED WILKS
THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Big Newk still can hum that pea.

The winless Don Newcombe, whom the Los Angeles Dodgers gave up on last Sunday, became a winner again last night for Cincinnati, shrugging off a first-inning home run by Stan Musial and blanking St. Louis on five hits the rest of the way for a 6-1 victory.

It was Newk's first start for the Redlegs, who climbed back into third place in the National League with the big right-hander's first victory in seven decisions.

It was a night for good pitching in the NL. Second place San Francisco defeated Pittsburgh 2-1 in 10 innings on the four-hit pitching of young Paul Giel and the clutch relief of veteran Marv Grissom. Rookie Stan Williams gained his second major league victory and shutout with a four-hitter as Los Angeles defeated Philadelphia 3-0.

Rain idled Milwaukee and the Chicago Cubs, with the Braves leading 1-0 in the second inning. That cut Milwaukee's lead over San Francisco to two games.

In the American League, the New York Yankees defeated Cleveland 3-2, Boston smacked the Chicago White Sox 13-9 and Baltimore spilled Kansas City 5-3. Detroit and Washington were rained out, but the Tigers moved up for a third place tie with Kansas City.

Newcombe, the best pitcher in baseball when he won 27 in 1956, but able to show only a 12-18 record since, had a three-hitter into the ninth, when three singles loaded the bases with one out. He got pinch-hitter Irv Noren on a pop up and pinch-hitter Hobie Landrith on a ground ball.

The Redlegs, now 4½ games behind after leap-frogging the Cards and Pirates, gave Newk a tie in the first when Gus Bell's fifth homer matched Musial's 12th. They won it with two in the third off loser Larry Jackson (5-3) on Alex Grammas' single, a triple by Jerry Lynch and a single by George Crowe. Newk's single closed the scoring in the seventh.

The Giants, benching the slumping Willie Mays, made it on singles by Bob Schmidt and Whitey Lockman that sandwiched a walk by Bob Friend, who had pitched shut out ball after giving up a first inning run on a balk.

Giel, 25, whose only other decision was a 2-1 loss to Pittsburgh last week, gave up three singles and the tying run in the third last night. Then he blanked the Bucs without a hit, retiring 16 in order, before giving up a single in the 10th. Grissom, 40, saved it.

Mays, 5-for-40 after grounding out as a pinch-hitter, still leads the NL with a .382 average. Musial, the runnerup, has .376.

Williams, 21, walked seven, but pitched no-hit ball after the fourth at Philadelphia and won it on Joe Pignatano's first home run in the majors. It was a two-run shot in the fifth that set off a barrage of beer cans from the fans, who thought it a foul ball.

Newcombe Gives Redlegs New Pennant Hopes

CINCINNATI (AP) — "One rose doesn't make a summer," says Manager Birdie Tebbets, but there is no getting around the fact the Cincinnati Redlegs' National League pennant hopes have been given a quick shot of vitamins by Don Newcombe.

Whether the vitamins continue to work remains to be seen, of course.

Wednesday night, however, Newcombe, the former mainstay of the old Brooklyn Dodgers, looked like the Newcombe of old as he hurled the Redlegs to a 6-1 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals.

Newcombe, a disappointment with the Dodgers last year, had an 0-6 record with the club at Los Angeles when Cincinnati got him in a trade earlier this week.

He allowed only six hits Wednesday night and after a spell of winlessness the first couple of innings never was in trouble until the ninth when three straight singles loaded the bases with one out.

"I was trying to get ahead of them and they were hitting the first pitch," said the grinning and perspiring Newcombe about that ninth inning.

The last two batters never got the ball out of the infield.

"I was throwing harder than at any time this season," Newk said. Tebbets, declining to go overboard over Newcombe's performance, said, "We know he's sound and if he's sound, he can win."

Biggest Golf Prize Challenges Pro Tourists

FLINT, Mich. (AP) — The longest course of the year and the biggest prize so far challenged pro golf tourists today with the start of the $52,000 Flint Open Tournament.

National Open champion Tommy Bolt put his new reputation on the line in going after the winner's pot of $9,000, sought also by numerous other top names of the pro set.

Warwick Hills, scene of the battle, confronted the pros with 7,280 yards, the longest any has played this year. Its par is 72.

Experts say Bolt, despite his new found temperament control system, will have trouble. That would be because of the strain all golfers experience in winning the Open. They don't ordinarily come back fast.

A field of 145, including 134 pros and 11 amateurs, was entered. All in all, it was sized up as a faster field than that which took part in the Open.

Among the missing top men was Cary Middlecoff. Middlecoff withdrew because of the wrist injury suffered in the last round at Tulsa last week.

Among the contenders were South Africa's Gary Player, runner-up in the Open, and Arnold Palmer, Ken Venturi, Gene Littler and Dow Finsterwald.

Aaron Gives Explanation Of His Slump

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Free swinging Hank Aaron of the world champion Milwaukee Braves has a disarming explanation for the worst slump of his brief but brilliant major league career:

"I just ain't guessing right." If that sounds implausible coming from the National League's most valuable player of 1957, it shouldn't. The 24-year-old wrist hitter always has insisted that guessing correctly has enabled him to make $30,000-plus a year. But, he admitted Wednesday night after the Cubs-Braves game was washed out by a cloudburst, his mind's eye is myopic right now.

Aaron is fumbling along at a .265 rate, with 10 homers — none in Milwaukee — and only 27 runs batted in.

A year ago, when he led the league in home runs with 44 and RBI's with 132 and finished up with a tidy .322 batting average, he was hitting .335 at this time — with 19 homers and 52 RBI's.

"I know I'm doing real bad," he said. "Nobody has to tell me that. But I'm not worried none. I don't want any help from anybody either. I'll get out of this trouble my own way — I'll just keep swinging."

Added statistical evidence of Aaron's slump is the fact that he has let 47 runners stranded in scoring position and hit into 12 double plays. If he continues his present DP pace, he'll surpass Ernie Lombardi's major league record of 30 for a single season set 20 years ago.

"I know about those double plays," he said. "Every one of 'em was on a hard hit ball. As long as I can keep getting good wood on the ball, I won't fret too much. I'll snap out of it."

Giel May Make Giants Contenders

PITTSBURGH (AP) — "Paul Giel is the pitcher who can make the San Francisco Giants a real pennant contender."

"That's what Giant manager Bill Rigney said last night after his club nipped the Pittsburgh Pirates 2-1 in 10 innings.

The victory left the Giants two games back of the league-leading Milwaukee.

Rigney, who had benched Willie Mays and drastically shaken up his lineup, held court in the dressing room while Giel accepted congratulations for his four-hit victory.

Giel now has a 1-1 record since his recent recall from Phoenix. The victory was his first in the majors since a two-year tour of Army duty. A former All-America football player at Minnesota, he passed up a pro football career to go with the Giants for a sizable bonus.

At one stretch Giel retired 16 Pirates in order. He was not around at the finish, however, and he was a little disappointed. Rigney called upon veteran right-hander Marv Grissom after Giel had given a leadoff single to Bill Mazeroski in the 10th and had a two-ball and no-strike count on pinchhitter Dick Schofield.

Grisson got Schofield on a foul, struck out pinchhitter Johnny Powers and forced Bill Virdon to ground out.

"Naturally, I wanted to finish the game but Rigney is running the ball club and he knows more about baseball than I do," Giel declared. "Grissom is a great pitcher."

"Then, Giel looked up and saw Whitey Lockman, the man whose 10th inning single won the game for the Giants.

"Whitey is some guy, too," Giel laughed.

Giel was with the Giants briefly in 1954, neither winning nor losing. In 1955 he was in 34 games, had a 4-4 record and a 3.40 earned run average. Then he went into the Army.

Gardner, Harbin In Opposition In Last Series Game

OMAHA (AP) — Bruce Gardner, ace left-hander of the southern California pitching staff, will go against Elmer Harbin, Missouri right hander who sat out most of the season with a sore arm, in the final of the NCAA baseball World Series tonight.

The game starts at 8 p. m. Both teams are 4 and 1 in the double elimination series after a 7-0 Southern California victory last night.

Gardner takes a 13 and 1 record to the mound and will be seeking his third series triumph. Harbin is 4 and 1 for the season and has won one series game.

Bill Thom and John O'Donoghue duelled through eight scoreless innings last night before Southern California combined hits, O'Donoghue's late throw to second and his wildness to drive him from the mound.

Ron Fairley opened the top of the ninth with a single and O'Donoghue threw late to second when the next hitter bunted. Another single loaded the bases and O'Donoghue then walked home the first run.

Bill Heath made it 2 to 0 with a single and when Thom drove home three runners with a double, O'Donoghue was jerked.

Permissive Legislation Needed for KC Area

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Permissive legislation is needed for the five-county Greater Kansas City area in Missouri and Kansas to solve its problems, a Missouri legislative committee was told yesterday.

CM EM Curran, a researcher with Community Studies, Inc., told the Missouri Legislature's interim committee there are 400 separate governmental units in the Kansas City metropolitan area. This includes Wyandotte and Johnson counties in Kansas and Jackson, Clay and Platte counties in Missouri.

Square Face On Backswing Vital

By SHELLEY MAYFIELD
What made my game is a very broad subject. I could list the hundreds of hours on the practice tee and green and as many experiments.

In my opinion, Ben Hogan has come closest to having a game that is made. He wrote a full and very educational book about it.

But explaining in a very few words what helped me most I have to say keeping the face of the club square in the backswing. I mean neither opening nor closing

Musial Uncorks Home Run; Only Good Card Feat

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Stan Musial uncorked a home run in his first time at the plate last night against the Cincinnati Red Legs but that was about the only outstanding Cardinal act in the 6-1 defeat.

And it didn't necessarily prove that Musial is out of his batting slump. He went 1-4 for the night. The Cards and Red Legs switched positions in the National League when it was all over. The Birds are now .500 and tied for fourth with the Pittsburgh Pirates and the Red Legs are alone in third.

The victory was the first this year for big Don Newcombe, recently traded to Cincinnati by the Dodgers.

The Red Legs out-hit St. Louis 10-6.

Cardinals pitchers Larry Jackson, the loser, Bill Wright and Lindy McDaniel had trouble finding the plate and gave up 10 walks.

The Kansas City Athletics dropped their second game in a row to the Baltimore Orioles and dropped to a third-place tie with idle Detroit in the American League.

The 5to 3 victory moved Baltimore into sixth.

Milt Pappas and Arnold Portocarrero teamed up on the A's to pitch an eight - hit game. Pappas was credited with the win.

The A's took a first inning two run lead which vanished when Dickson gave up the three runs in the sixth.

The A's were still hanging in there in the ninth. Harry Simpson singled and came in on pinch hit Hal Smith's double. But Portocarrero forced Chico Carrasquel to ground out to end it.

Mantle Gets Injured Shoulder X-Rayed

CLEVELAND (AP) — Mickey Mantle, New York Yankee center fielder, received X-ray treatment for his injured right shoulder at Evangelical Deaconess Hospital Wednesday.

It was learned this was the second in a series of three treatments for the Yankee slugger, who has been ailing since spring training. He will receive further treatment in Detroit Friday.

Mantle's shoulder injury has greatly impaired his effectiveness as a left-handed batter. He is hitting only .226 from that side of the plate. The switch-hitter has been whacking away at a .476 clip while batting as a righty.

the face as the club is taken to the top of the backswing. This eliminates the split-second timing required to get the face of the club squarely back to the ball on the downswing. This would be necessary if the face had either been opened or closed.

It is not only possible but practical to use the same swing all the way through on all shots. All good golfers do this.

Pivoting on a golf shot is just as simple as pivoting in walking.

New Hurlers Warm Bench As Yanks Win

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

Poor old Casey Stengel. His New York Yankee pitching staff was so thin he had to get some help with a trade. So what happens?

Southpaw Whitey Ford spun a three-hit shutout at Cleveland Tuesday. Then Case hauled Art Ditmar out of the bullpen last night and the right-hander pitched a no-hitter for 5 1-3 innings in his first start before getting reliever Ryne Duren's help for a 3-2 success over the Indians.

All of which leaves Duke Maas and Virgil Trucks, picked up in a deal with Kansas City, and Zack Monroe, recalled from Denver, still sittin' on their pinestraps.

Second place Boston, eight games back, blasted a 33-inning shutout string by Chicago pitching, hammering five home runs in a 13-9 victory over the White Sox. Baltimore defeated Kansas City 5-3. Detroit and Washington were idled by rain, but the Tigers moved into a third place tie with Kansas City.

In the National League, Don Newcombe gained his first victory of the season in his first appearance as a Cincinnati pitcher, defeating St. Louis 6-1. San Francisco defeated Pittsburgh 2-1 in 10 innings. Los Angeles beat Philadelphia 3-0. Milwaukee and the Chicago Cubs were stopped by rain.

Ditmar was breezing with a 3-0 lead, on first-inning homers by Hank Bauer and Elston Howard. Then an error and singles by Minnie Minoso and Mickey Vernon cracked his no-hit spell and scored two unearned runs in the sixth. When he gave up a double by loser Jim (Mudcat) Grant in the seventh, Casey brought in Duren. The rookie right-hander fanned two in a hitless 2 1-3 innings of relief.

Mudcat (5-4) allowed only six hits, blanking the Yankees the last eight innings. A walk came ahead of the clinching home run by Howard, who was behind the plate instead of Yogi Berra, who had an eye test in effort to explain his 211 average.

Young Milt Pappas (4-1) gave up only five hits and two runs in his seven innings and produced the lead run with a double for the Orioles. A two-run homer by Gus Triandos, his 14th, triggered a three-run Baltimore sixth, junking Murry Dickson's shut out bid.

Dickson now is 5-3.

Marty Keough, hitting his first in the majors, Don Buddin, Jackie Jensen, Ted Williams and Frank Malzone homered for the Red Sox, with Jensen's tying Bob Cerv of the A's for the AL lead at 17. Williams and Malzone homered in a six-run eighth off losing reliever Gerry Staley (1-5) that overhauled an 8-7 Chicago lead.

A Newcomer Pushes Into Semi-Finals Of Women's College Golf

AMES, Iowa. (AP) — Three repeaters from 1957 and a pretty 18-year-old newcomer from Minnesota were involved today in the semifinals of the Women's National Collegiate Golf Tournament.

The newcomer was Carole Pugh, a Carleton College freshman who surprised with a 1 up victory over National Amateur champion Joanne Gunderson in the quarter-finals.

Carole had another big task today. She was matched against defending champion Meriam Bailey of Northwestern University who won the last four holes for a 1 up decision over Laurayne Conley of Northern Illinois.

Judy Bell of Wichita University, who lost 1 down in the 1957 final, was paired today with Ann Rutherford of Penn State, a semifinal loser to Miss Bailey last year. Miss Bell eliminated Judy Kimball of Sioux City, a Kansas U. player, 4 and 3, and Ann swept through medalist Clifford Ann Creed of Lamar Tech, 6 and 5, Wednesday.

Elliott and Lincoln Dominate the Array Of AAU Competitors

BAKERSFIELD, Calif. (AP) — Track and field athletes by the hundreds streamed into Bakersfield today, but a pair of Australian mile runners, Herb Elliott and Mervyn Lincoln, dominated the scene on the eve of the National AAU championships.

The meet gets under way in Memorial Stadium at Bakersfield College Friday and winds up Saturday night featuring the mile.

At stake are national titles and the possibility of landing a place on the American team which will compete against Russia in Moscow next month.

Elliott five times this year has bettered four minutes and is a serious threat not only to do it again but break the world record of 3:58 held by his fellow countryman John Landy.

Lincoln, another member of the four-minute lodge, has not raced impressively in this country this season, but he won the mile in this meet last year and set the U. S. AAU record in the process at 4:06.1.

At the close of 1957, the total population of Canada stood at 16,900,000.

Dodgers Want to Make Rube Walker a Coach

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — the Los Angeles Dodgers want to make Rube Walker a coach. At the start of the season he was the main contender for injured catcher Roy Campanell's job.

Club Vice President Buzzy Bavasi, said Wednesday night the 32-year-old Walker will be made a coach if waivers are obtained on him. The team asked for waivers Tuesday.

In the catching department, Walker, hitting only .114, has lost out to John Roseboro and Joe Pignatano.

Aleshire Wins Two Events At T-Bowl

Torch Aleshire of Moberly burned up a slightly damp track to cap first place in the trophy race at the Thunderbowl Wednesday evening. His time was 1:53.65.

Don Cooper was the only Sedalia who placed in the heats. He came in third in the second heat and seventh in the A Feature.

Dean Marr of Jefferson City figured for first place in the first heat with a time of 4:01.89. Bob Harvey of Gilliam was second, Jack Gray of Warrensburg was third, and William Graham of California was fourth.

In the second heat the winning time was 3:45.62, capped by Russell Hibbard of Slater. Second, Sonny Rabuson, Windsor; third, Don Cooper of Sedalia; and fourth, Woody Carpenter of Clarksburg.

The third heat winner was John Gordon of California, with a time of 3:41.50. Second place went to Ken Taylor of Slater; third, Torch Aleshire of Moberly; and fourth, Roy Hibbard of Marshall.

Aleshire again won the A-feature with a time of 5:18.84. Ken Taylor, second; Joe Dennis, Clinton; third, Roy Hibbard, fourth; Russell Hibbard, Slater, fifth; John Gordon, sixth; and Don Cooper and Paul Keeper, California, tied for seventh.

The B-feature was a 15-lap grind of which Woody Carpenter, Warrensburg, won with a 5:35.

Sedalia Garden Clubs Plan For Home Tour

Sedalia Garden Clubs met Friday afternoon, June 13, at which time the home tour to be held June 20, starting at 1 p.m., was discussed.

Club No. 1 met at the home of Mrs. Fred Shaffer, 901 South Prospect, with Mrs. E. F. Yancey and Mrs. H. L. Keens as assisting hostesses.

A dessert luncheon was served to 22 members and four guests, Mrs. William Gilbert, Hoisington, Kan., Mrs. J. G. Banks Jr., Kaneohe, Hawaii, Mrs. Charles Meyers and Mrs. Gene Merry.

Mrs. Norman Wehmeier, president, conducted the business meeting and gave a report of a recent council meeting, promoting the little red school house as a historical landmark in Sedalia.

Mrs. W. P. Tucker announced the club picnic which is to be held Thursday, July 17, at the home of Mrs. W. G. Borne, 1315 South Kentucky.

Mrs. Gilbert presented Mrs. Tucker who gave a conservation talk on "Stream Pollution."

Mrs. Earl Lugen talked on "Roses for Every Dream Garden." Guests introduced each made a few remarks with Mrs. Banks telling of the flowers in Hawaii.

In exhibits Mrs. F. M. Nicholas received one first; Mrs. Tracy York, two firsts; Mrs. Emory Herick, one second and one third; Mrs. Jewell Blain Bollinger, one first; Mrs. H. L. Keens, one second and Mrs. Norma Wehmeier one second.

Garden Club 3 met with Mrs. J. J. Chipman, 1114 West Broadway, with Mrs. T. H. Yount assisting. A dessert course was served to 17 members.

Mrs. Wilford Acker, first vice-president, presided in the absence of the president, Mrs. Ed Brummett.

Mrs. J. C. Orender presented Oscar DeWolf, district director of the American Rose Society, who gave the topic on which he was well informed: "Roses for Every Dream Garden."

Mrs. C. L. Carter distributed the programs for the home tour.

Mrs. J. J. Chipman received first on the exhibit for the day.

The July meeting will be a breakfast at Flat Creek Inn.

Club No. 5 met with Mrs. W. J. Menefee, 1201 West Third, with Mrs. P. L. Stroebe assisting hostess. A one o'clock dessert luncheon was served to 20 members and one guest, Mrs. Clay Harned.

Mrs. M. L. Edwards, president, presided over the business meeting.

In the exhibit: "Romance With Roses," Mrs. P. L. Stroebe received first; Mrs. Fred Wertz, second, and Mrs. J. W. Menefee, third. In horticulture Mrs. Wertz was first and Mrs. Oscar DeWolf received second and third.

Mrs. Edwards turned the meeting over to Mrs. Vernon Rodick who introduced Mr. and Mrs. Oscar DeWolf. Mr. DeWolf showed pictures of beautiful rose gardens and Mrs. DeWolf read a paper, "The Culture of Roses."

The next meeting will be in July at the home of Mrs. E. W. Kettleson in Kansas City.

Club No. 6, met at the home of Mrs. William Schwermer, 1120 East Tenth, for a one o'clock dessert luncheon, with Mrs. Paul Berthouex and Mrs. F. T. Johnson as assisting hostesses. There were 13 members and two guests.

The garden club refreshment course and short courses to which garden club members are invited was announced. It will be held at the Student Union Building at the University of Missouri, Columbia, June 25 and 26.

In horticulture specimens, Mrs. Wilson Harbit won first and second and in exhibit Mrs. Harbit won first with Mrs. Schwermer winning second and third.

The program topic, "Roses for Every Dream Garden," was discussed by Mrs. Fred Koenig, guest speaker, who very interestingly and capably talked on the subject.

Club No. 7 met with Mrs. Paul Benson, 419 South Park, with Mrs. A. Maxwell assisting hostess.

A dessert luncheon was served at one o'clock to 13 members and one visitor, Mrs. John Palmer, Green Ridge.

Awards for the exhibit of the month, "Romance With Roses" were as follows: Mrs. Leonard Hall, one blue ribbon and one red ribbon; horticulture exhibit, Mrs. Robert Neuman, one blue ribbon and one red ribbon and Mrs. Paul Read, one white ribbon.

Mrs. George Chambers talked on "Water Pollution."

The guest speaker was Mrs. John Palmer who gave an interesting and instructive talk on "Roses for Every Dream Garden."

The next meeting will be a picnic at the home of Mrs. Fred Brummett.

Garden Club No. 8, met at the home of Mrs. E. C. Martin, 720 West Fourth. A dessert luncheon was served to 15 members.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. R. S. Doll. The conservation topic: "Stream Pollution" was given by Mrs. George Dryden.

Mrs. Curtis Howard gave the topic for the day, "Roses for Every Dream Garden."

The artistic composition awards, "Romance With Roses," were as follows: Mrs. Terry Pile, first; Mrs. Ralph Kreisel, second, and Mrs. R. L. Momberg, third, in the rose specimen awards Mrs. Willa Laudenberger received first, Mrs. George Walk, second, and Mrs. Garland Foster, third for tea roses; and Mrs. R. S. Doll, first, and Mrs. Ralph Kreisel, second for floribunda roses.

The July meeting will be a one o'clock luncheon at Flat Creek Inn.

Garden Club No. 9 met at the home of Mrs. R. D. Uhr with Mrs. J. W. Short and Mrs. William Gibson assisting.

Dessert was served to 11 members and two guests, Mrs. Carl Almqvist and Mrs. Edward Brummett.

Mrs. Brummett spoke very informatively on the classification of roses and showed examples of all classes.

Plans for the exhibits at the Missouri State Fair were discussed and volunteer workers were obtained.

Mrs. James Dickman presided in the absence of Mrs. K. L. Holden and gave the council report. Members were urged to write letters to the Highway Department, the governor and their representative asking for litterbug cans on the Missouri highways; also, to the Highway Department urging the preservation of a virgin prairie.

Mrs. Jud Grayston gave some interesting facts on the conservation topic "Stream Pollution."

It was announced that the meeting in July would be a breakfast.

Points were awarded to Mrs. William Gibson, Mrs. Charles Arnest and Mrs. Floyd Lively for exhibits.

Police Ask Aerial Aid In Hunt For Escapees

SESSER, Ill. (AP)—State police asked for aerial assistance today in their hunt for two men who escaped early Tuesday from the Jackson County jail at Murphysboro, Ill.

The fugitives are Jimmie Whitehead, 24, who was awaiting trial on a bad check charge, and William C. McDowell, 28, who faced several armed robbery charges.

The search focused on the Sesser area after Paul Mezo of West Frankfort, Ill., reported two men waved him down on a road a mile south of town. Mezo said he stopped but sped away again when he saw they had a shotgun and a pistol.

Sgt. Thomas Leffler of the Illinois State Police said they probably were Whitehead and McDowell. Searchers combed the woods around Sesser most of the day Wednesday and Sgt. Leffler made arrangements for an airplane to join the hunt today.

Two other prisoners escaped with Whitehead and McDowell but they were caught a few hours fast man with a buck.

MCPHERSON, Kan. (AP)—McPherson residents turned out with a brass band yesterday to welcome home Jolitta Schlehuber, 14, winner of the National Spelling Bee.

A seven-car caravan, escorted by police, rolled into town with Jolitta sitting in an open convertible with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Schlehuber, and her younger brother and sister, Cameron and Vinnie.

The caravan met Jolitta at Wichita Municipal Airport. Main Street was decorated with banners.

Jolitta was welcomed by Bryan Holloway, president of the Chamber of Commerce.

"All I can say is thanks to everybody — I didn't expect this," Jolitta said.

Super Radar Station Is Being Constructed

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP) — A super radar station capable of detecting ballistic missiles many hundreds of miles away is being built on Shemya Island about 300 miles from Soviet soil, says the Anchorage Times.

Shemya is about 1,500 miles west of here in the Aleutian chain and some 300 miles from the Soviet Union's Kamchatka Peninsula.

The Times reported 100 men have been flown to Shemya and 100 more will be airlifted there shortly for preliminary construction and advance planning. A missile detector station at Shemya would be the second on the nation's northern defense rim. The first is under construction 50 miles southwest of Fairbanks at an estimated cost of 11 million dollars. The Air Force and Defense Department have declined comment on the missile-spotting stations.

Dedicate New Center To Surgical Orderly

RENO (AP) — Washoe Medical Center's new $720,000 diagnostic and treatment facility was dedicated to a surgical orderly.

The honor came to Chris Kakoris, 67, a native of Greece, as he completed 27 years to become the hospital's longest employee.

Administrator Clyde Fox estimated that Kakoris has wheeled more than 25,000 patients to surgery.

Betty Hutton Decides Against the Divorce

LOS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — After talking it over with her husband, Betty Hutton says she has decided against a divorce.

The blonde entertainer announced Friday that she would divorce television executive Alan Livingston. He flew in from Hollywood Tuesday. Yesterday Miss Hutton's manager said reconciliation talks were successful.

Lions Enjoy Pictures Of Trade Fair

The Sedalia Lions were taken on a motion picture tour of the International Trade Fair as presented by the U. S. Department of Commerce, Wednesday, when M. C. Ervin, secretary of the Missouri State Fair, spoke and presented the picture.

Ervin had the picture for presentation which depicted good will being developed through this type of fair entertainment, and through various exhibits of education gained through American books and literature. The pictures gave an example of the interest shown, by the people of Europe in modern American agricultural implements, as well as to the libraries, modern homes and modern appliances manufactured in this country.

The picture was taken of the trade fair at Poznan, Poland, behind the Iron Curtain.

He then spoke briefly on the Missouri fair for 1958, the exhibits and plans, and said that for the current year of July 1, 1957 to June 16, 1958, the Missouri State Fair had spent $140,964.34 directly with Pettis County industries, and that the payroll for employees here amounted to $108,025.81, during this period.

Ervin also stressed the increase of exhibitors space leased for the 1958 fair for farm implements, and indicated practically all of the large manufacturers would be here for the first time in years.

The speaker was introduced by Harry Goldberg, program chairman.

Guests at the meeting were Ed Kempf, E. B. Smith, Lion member at Pilot Grove who has moved to Sedalia, and Lion J. H. Tyler, Sikeston, who was making up an attendance meeting.

President A. B. Warren called attention to the ladies night program to be held Wednesday night, June 25, at which time installation of officers for the coming year will be held.

Garcia Winds Up Drive Today for U. S. Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — Philippine President Carlos P. Garcia winds up his drive for major U.S. economic help today, hopeful some agreements will be reached.

The third day of his state visit includes a speech to the National Press Club and talks with Secretary of State Dulles and congressional leaders.

Tonight President and Mrs. Garcia will give a farewell state dinner at the Philippine Embassy for President and Mrs. Eisenhower.

Both Philippine and American financial experts were working on details of a program for Philippine economic development. Garcia has labeled the program urgent and imperative.

A formal statement is to be issued Friday.

The total aid requested by the Philippines has not been disclosed. But it is reported to amount to some 350 million dollars in long term loans and credits.

Police and Zookeepers Search for Orangutan

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Armed police and banana-toting zookeepers searched the Hollywood hills through the night for Gus, an escaped orangutan.

The half-grown ape fled from Griffith Park Zoo Wednesday while his cage was being cleaned.

Three carloads of police hunted the 65-pound beast along miles of roadways of the park. But zookeepers said they doubted if the weapons would be needed.

"He's very kind and gentle," said head keeper Mike Wendt. "He's very shy. And he's strictly a vegetarian."

But he said Gus might be dangerous if cornered or riled. Gus is 6 years old and is about 3 feet tall. His arms are long and powerful.

TIMETABLE FOR SPACE—Illustrated above are the progressive steps toward man's conquest of outer space, with probable dates for initial capability of the projects. The degree of effort put into such feats as establishment of a permanent inhabited space station, a lunar base and flights to neighboring planets depends on the utility and urgency of the projects. This timetable was organized on the basis of current progress, before the discovery of the wide belt of intensely radioactive matter some 600 miles above the earth. That "belt" may prove to be a roadblock in the swift march of science. Data provided by Convair-Astronautics Division, General Dynamics Corp.

Merry-Go-Round Rides Lead Boy, 7, to Death

NEW YORK (AP) — Michael Roccisano, 7, was treated to three rides on a small merry-go-round mounted on a truck parked near his home Wednesday.

It was great fun, Michael didn't want to quit.

He leaped on the rear of the truck as the merry-go-round operator started to pull away from the curb.

His hands slipped and he was crushed to death by a rear wheel.

Reverse Work Stand On Ministers' Wives

CARLISLE, Pa. (AP) — Four Methodist district superintendents have backtracked on a previous stand that minister's wives shouldn't work full time.

In a report at the annual meeting of the Central Pennsylvania Methodist Conference (560 churches) the superintendents reaffirmed their basic stand, but added:

"We have no doubt that this practice is sometimes necessary and usually helpful in paying old bills, putting children through schools and preparing for that rainy day."

said, "Anglo-American ruling circles are seeking to deal a blow to Damascus and Cairo and to the entire liberation movement of the Arab and African peoples."

Unemployment Rate Continues to Drop

TOPEKA (AP) — Kansas' insured unemployment rate continues to drop.

The rate dropped to 2.9 per cent for the week ending June 14, compared to 3.1 per cent the previous week.

The number of unemployment claims processed was 11,257 compared to 11,587 the preceding week and 7,927 a year ago.

In 'Yard of Month Contest'

Many of Sedalia's Beautiful Yards Catch Judges' Eyes

Many beautiful yards were seen during June as the judges drove around the city to make their selections in the "Yard of the Month" contest sponsored by the Sedalia Chamber of Commerce and the Sedalia Garden Clubs. A great number which had not been entered as well as those that were entered caught the judges' eye, and they commented on some they felt should be considered.

One of the yards receiving first place was that of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Corbett, 1112 East 19th. This home was entered by the neighbors of the Corbetts who explained that Mr. and Mrs. Corbett bought the little cottage five years ago. At that time there was not a tree or even grass there, only big holes in the back yard where they had been excavating. Now the two big lots are beautiful with trees, roses and shrubs. A special beauty is the climber over the back door. There is a weeping willow tree, too, in the back, and they have a barbecue oven, table, chairs, bird bath, and said "We call it rural beauty."

The neighbors continued that people often thought that East Sedalia did not get a break on pretty things to be judged, but everybody enjoys the Corbett yard. Mr. Corbett has planted all the Maple trees that surround the two lots. The neighbors of the Corbetts are right. They do have a very beautiful yard and the judges heartily agreed. Since the homes are to be judged from the front, although a house on a corner with a pretty backyard seems to have a little edge over the others, this home is particularly lovely with a foundation planting of evergreen, and to the west side a lot equal to a park in beauty. Near the front yard, the first place winner in the northeast division was that of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Liebel, 1500 East Seventh. This is a white frame house with a large well-kept yard, a great deal of planting both around the house and in the border and there were many nice big trees and shrubs. The white fence which surrounds the home was covered with bright red roses.

In the northwest division the home of Mrs. Mabel Menefee, 1201 West Third, which is dark green with white trim was first. The judges were impressed with the neat and beautiful lawn, the well placed and nicely kept evergreens and the shrubs. The color came from the rose bed in the back as well as the trellis with hardy pink sweetpeas.

The second place winner in the southwest division was the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Rodick, 1420 State Fair. The house, a frame, is beige with darker beige trim. This is one of the most colorful landscapings in the city with a brick planter filled with bright shades of petunias and other flowers. At the north side in front is a bed of roses, lythrum and petunias. The foundation planting includes evergreens and near the street is a group of evergreens and shrubs.

The second place winner in the southeast division was the home of Mr. and Mrs. Emil J. Plughoff at 821 Arlington, with a white house with attractive foundation planting of evergreens with the accent of roses in front. Roses were on the white fence and trellis. There is an inviting picnic area with fireplace at the side, and many nice trees. An unusual thing was a small white wheelbarrow in front filled with blooming flowers. The second place winner in the northeast division was the home of Mr. and Mrs. Rolla Cordes, 2013 East Seventh. The house is white and centered so that there is a fairly big lawn on either side, where the special attractions are large round beds of old fashioned pinks. The bright little pinks are used in an effective manner along the front of the foundation of the house on one side, too. Another accent of color is found in the geraniums in boxes. Two trellises are covered with vines, and there are big trees and a nicely kept lawn.

The main feature of the attractive new home of yellow brick with green trim, of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Ledbetter, 1718 West Fourth, is the very large brick planter in the side front yard that is a rainbow of color with flowers of almost every kind in full bloom. Nobody could drive past the Ledbetter home without noticing the bright array of flowers. The evergreen foundation plantings are enhanced, too, with the vivid red of salvia. A description of the features of the third place winners and honorable mention homes will be given in another story.

To Find Supermarket Specials

Prices of Fowl, Fish, Beef To Follow Strange Pattern

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Retail meat prices will follow a crazy quilt course this weekend and shoppers will find a wide range of specials in supermarkets and neighborhood grocery stores.

Heading the lineup of features will be fowl, fish, beef and veal. Housewives may have to do some hunting for good buys, as prices are irregular.

For example, one leading chain will advertise a sharp reduction in the price of sirloin steak in some Eastern cities, but also will be upping the price of sirloin in other areas.

Fryer prices are being cut in a number of regions while loin veal chops are steady to a little lower. Leg of lamb is still moving upward and changes in pork chops are widely scrambled.

Some stores are raising egg prices by 2 to 6 cents a dozen. Butter is generally unchanged. If housewives find meat prices are hard on the pocketbook, they may turn to the increasing supply of fruits and vegetables.

Produce men report excellent vegetable buys in iceberg, Romaine and Boston lettuce, beets, endive, escarole, radishes, cabbage, spinach, cauliflower and rhubarb.

Among the good buys are snap beans, asparagus, Western carrots, cucumbers, green peppers, California and Florida potatoes, Florida corn and Western lettuce. Numerous stores will feature newly arrived canteloupe and watermelon.

Best fruit buys, according to produce men, are watermelons, pineapples, bananas and Southern peaches.

Cantaloupes and strawberries are classed as good buys. Southern blueberries and Western cherries are becoming more plentiful, but are a little higher priced.

GRADUATES — Miss Mary Sheilla Wilson, granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Freund, 811 West Seventh, who was graduated this spring from Buffalo High School. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Shields Wilson, former Sedallians. Mary Sheilla was on the school's honor roll, received several awards in the field of music, and was awarded a scholarship from SMS at Springfield. The scholarship was transferable to Central Missouri State College, Warrensburg, and she plans to enter college there this fall where she will major in music. This summer she is playing first flute in the college band.

Man Returns Money; Conscience Wins Out

DETROIT (AP) — Young Thomas E. Davis wrestled with his conscience yesterday. His conscience won. The 21-year-old Jacksboro, Tex., native now faces a charge of attempted bank robbery.

Davis, worried over a debt, held up a bank on impulse, police said, but threw his $1,000 loot on the floor saying "I can't do it. I can't do it." Then he fled only to be quickly captured.

U.S. Dist. Court ordered him held in $50,000 bond for examination July 8.

At a branch of the National Bank of Detroit, Davis handed Mrs. Alma J. Hadley, 39, a teller, a note threatening her life unless she gave him money.

Mrs. Hadley was counting $20 bills. She gave him a batch. Their eyes met. Then she said he threw the money to the floor and ran out. Police caught him a few blocks away.

Davis, discharged from the Army last February, said he wanted money to pay college bills and for a trip to Texas with his wife, Coe, 21. Mrs. Davis is a recent University of Michigan graduate.

UAW Schedule Talks With Other Groups

DETROIT (AP) — The United Auto Workers Union scheduled bargaining talks today with General Motors, Ford and Chrysler. Neither the companies nor the union had any comment following brief sessions yesterday.

Some 500,000 UAW members have been working without contracts at Big Three plants since June 1 as negotiations on new contracts continue.

GM also is bargaining with the International Union of Electrical Workers, which represents 18,000 GM employees. They also are working without a contract.

Beer Puts Out Flame

OWOSSO, Mich. (AP) — When Dewey Campbell of Owosso started his car the other day the carburetor caught fire.

Campbell dashed into a nearby saloon, grabbed a bottle of beer, snapped off the cap, shook the bottle and let fly at the flaming carburetor. That put out the blaze.

That Frozen Face of Females Could Possibly Be Improved

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Many life-long scholars of the great American frozen female face have thought it could be improved.

Their varying approach to the problem probably measures their age and optimism.

Being older and perhaps therefore more cynical, I leaned to the theory that it was better to get along with life than fight it—and I came to accept the great American frozen female face as inevitable.

I came to feel it was natural to shake womanhood by her lifted nose rather than her withheld hand.

American girls!

Jeanne Eagles' Heirs Suing for Damages

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Eight heirs of the late Jeanne Eagles, Broadway and Hollywood actress, seek $950,000 damages for loss of her name and likeness in a motion picture.

Defendants in a suit on file in superior court today are George Sidney Productions, Inc., and Columbia Pictures Corp., who produced and distributed the film, "The Jeanne Eagles Story."

The complaint by a sister, four nephews and three nieces of the actress charged the film depicted Miss Eagles as "a dissolute and immoral person."

Miss Eagles died at 35 in 1929 while at the peak of her career.

Dr. Pauling Resigns As Head of Chemistry

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Dr. Linus Pauling, a Nobel prize winner, has resigned as head of California Institute of Technology's department of chemistry and chemical engineering. He will remain as professor of chemistry.

Dr. Pauling, a leading foe of nuclear testing, said he quit the post he had held 21 years because he wanted to devote his entire time to research and teaching. He will be succeeded by Dr. Ernest H. Swift, a Caltech faculty member 38 years.

Steals His Own Car

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP) — Yoder S. Guaraldi, 32, of Brockton, Mass., was stopped by a policeman for driving a stolen car. He agreed it was stolen April 2 — from him, but returned a day later.

Brockton police said somebody had forgotten to cancel the car's number as wanted.

Milk Is for Everyone
Every month is dairy month with special emphasis on dairy products in June. It is a time when we stop and pay tribute to the dairy farmer, the dairies, the milkman, and the dairy section in the stores because they all help bring us milk and its many products. Milk is one of the cheapest foods in terms of food value.
Milk is a good food buy.

June is also the month when we make a firm resolution to get our quota of milk each day.
Youngsters do all right; they get their quart of milk a day, either through drinking whole milk, or eating ice cream, cheese or cottage cheese. But many surveys reveal that parents are not using the milk they need daily. Why?
Aren't adults entitled to good health, too? We never outgrow our need for milk.

Who needs milk? Everybody!
Milk is the most important item of the baby's diet. Milk is the most nearly perfect food, providing calcium to harden those bones, protein (the body builder) and minerals and vitamins to regulate and promote body growth. The growing child should have one quart of milk each day to grow on.
Teenage vim, vigor and vitality are found in milk. One to one and a half quarts a day will insure good bone and tooth development.
Milk should be a basic food if you wish to stay slim, as it provides much more of the necessary food nutrients than it does calories.

Adults need milk. Three glasses a day will keep you vigorous and add to your vitality, help regulate heart action and lessen irritability of the nervous system. If you wish to keep your teeth and your youthful look, drink three glasses of milk daily. Pregnant women need more than other adults; they need one quart daily. Nursing mothers need up to 1 1/2 quarts daily. Grandma and Grandpa need three cups to one quart each day to keep from deteriorating and becoming brittle.
Milk is easily digested for tired digestive systems.

Freezing Vegetables
What Fruits and Vegetables to Freeze—If properly selected and prepared for freezing, most fruits will be quite satisfactory when frozen. Those fruits with pronounced flavors freeze best. Blackberries freeze particularly well and most people like peaches, strawberries, rhubarb and melon balls.

In general, all vegetables that are usually cooked freeze well.
Vegetables enjoyed for their crisp texture or delicate flavor and usually eaten raw are not satisfactory for freezing. Green leaves, broccoli, peas, green beans, asparagus, lima beans, corn, peppers and cauliflower are popular frozen vegetables.

Freeze While Fresh—The sooner vegetables and fruits are frozen after picking, the better they are.
Quality goes down rapidly if the product is held in a warm place.
If delay is necessary, hold the product in refrigerator or other cool place. "Not more than two hours from garden to freezer" is a good rule.

Fruits and vegetables lose quality rapidly if held after packaging before freezing. If packages must be held, place them in cold part of the refrigerator or pack in crushed ice, but do not freeze.
A home food freezer is particularly valuable for freezing fruits and vegetables straight from orchard or garden.

Use Proper Containers—Select a moisture vapor-resistant container.
Cold air in the freezer is dry and will take moisture from the food unless properly packaged. All containers should be leakproof and easy to seal. They should be durable and easy to get food in or out. Rigid containers made of aluminum, glass, plastic, tin or heavily waxed cardboard are especially good for fruits packed with syrup. Bags may be used for liquid packs but may be less convenient than rigid containers. Bags and sheets of moisture vapor-resistant laminated papers, heavy aluminum foil, polyfilm and poly-ethylene are suitable for dry packed vegetables and fruits. Bags and sheets are usually used with cardboard cartons to protect from tearing and to make storage easier. Rigid containers, flat on all sides, stack best. Bags, sheets and folding cartons take up little room when not in use but rigid containers with straight sides or narrow openings cannot be nested for storage.

Using the same type container for many foods saves space. Manufacturers are continually making improvements and developing new containers. Watch for them and follow manufacturers' directions for use.

Use the size container that will serve your family for one meal.
A pint of frozen fruit, corn, peas or beans will provide four average servings.

Packaging Is Important—Food and syrup should feel cold (60 degrees F or lower) before being packed into containers. Having the material cold helps retain color, flavor and texture of fruits and speeds up freezing. To exclude most of the air, pack foods tight and press air out of unfilled part of bag.

The food and liquid expand in freezing so allow head space between packed food and closure—1/2 inch for dry pack; 1/2 inch for pints of liquid pack if wide top opening and 3/4 inch if opening is narrow; one inch for quarts with wide top opening and 1 1/2 inch if top opening is narrow.

Seal packages perfectly and label plainly, giving date and type of pack. Gummed labels, colored tape, crayons and pens are made especially for labeling frozen packages.

Freeze Quickly
Freeze fruits and vegetables at 0 degrees F. or below as soon as possible after packaging. Put no more food into the freezer than will freeze solid in 24 hours—about two or three pounds per cubic foot of freezer space. Overloading may cause food to lose quality. Keep storage temperature at 0 degrees F. or below. At high temperature, the food loses quality much faster.

Blanching vegetables and adding sugar or syrup to fruits help retain quality. High quality vegetables and fruits (aside from citrus) when properly prepared, packaged and stored will retain their quality and flavor for around eight months. Longer storage will not make the food unfit for use.

How to Freeze Fruits

Select fruit that is fully ripe but still firm. Wash in cold water.
Handle delicate fruits, as berries, in small quantities to avoid bruising.
Drain thorough and prepare for freezing in about the same way as for serving. Slicing aids packaging and ways of serving. Prepare enough fruit for only a few containers at a time (two or three quarts). Do not use galvanized ware in direct contact with fruit because the acid in fruit dissolves zinc, which is poisonous. Metallic off-flavors may result from iron or copper utensils, chipped enamel or tin ware that is not well tinned.
If you weight fruit use 1 1/2 lbs.
for a quart.

How to Freeze Vegetables

Heat the vegetables in boiling water to slow or stop the action of the enzymes which would cause the frozen vegetable to discolor, toughen and develop off-flavors.
This heating also wilts or softens the vegetables so they pack easier.
Use a blancher or a large kettle with a lid and a fine mesh wire basket or cheese cloth to hold the vegetable. For each pound prepared vegetable use one gallon boiling water. Begin counting time as soon as the vegetable is under boiling water and the lid back on the kettle. Keep the heat high and blanch the exact time given in the directions for each vegetable. Be accurate as under-blanching will not destroy the enzyme and over-blanching may cause the vegetables to be like a warmed over vegetable when served.

Pumpkin, sweet potatoes and winter squash may be completely cooked instead of blanched. To-matos for juice may be simmered just until they can be put through a strainer.

Cool quickly and thoroughly.
This is very important for high quality frozen vegetables. Plunge the vegetables into cold water immediately after removing them from the blanching kettle. Use cold running water or have plenty of ice—one pound for each pound of vegetable—cool until the vegetable feels cold to the hand (about 60 degrees F.). Then remove from the water, drain to drip dry, and package. Freeze the vegetable as soon as possible as delay in any step of the process from garden to freezer will lower the quality of the vegetable.

Board of Directors Of Old Trails Council Holds Meeting Here

The board of directors of Old Trails Council of Girl Scouts met in Sedalia at the Chamber of Commerce building on June 10 at 7:30 p.m.

Mrs. Gerald F. Esser, Marshall, conducted the meeting.

The 1959 budget was discussed and approved.

A report on the number of girls who will attend Camp Pin Oak at the Lake of the Ozarks was made. There will be 46 girls from the council attending. This is an increase of 31 girls over last year's enrollment. Ten dollars of each girl's fee is being paid by the council due to the fact that Old Trails Council does not own an established camp.

Others in attendance were: Mrs. Theodore Wells, Sedalia, nominating committee chairman; Mrs. Walter Haggard, secretary, Fayette; Mrs. Paul Jacobs, neighborhood "D" chairman, New Franklin; Mrs. Porter Robb, member at large, Sedalia; Mrs. J. M. Bailey, personnel comm. chairman, Sedalia; Mrs. Herbert Cooper, neighborhood "C" chairman, Warsaw; Miss Sandra Clough, executive director, Sedalia; and Mrs. David A. Martin, public relations chairman, Sedalia.

IFYE Sale Donations Taken at 4-H Meeting

Fifty-six persons attended the June 2 meeting of the Quisenberry Hustlers 4-H Club which was held in the Quisenberry School.

Donations for the IFYE sale were taken and several reports were given by Sara Oswald and Clifford Chappell and Peter Grotzinger. Games were led by Mary and Johnny Mergen.

Refreshments were served by Karen Rissler, Glenda, Arvid and Anita Rhoads.

The next meeting will be on July 7 with the program being on first aid and grooming. Several demonstrations are planned.

Even Groucho Can Play

Fenneman In New TV Show; 'Anybody Can Play' to Begin

Editor's Note—The writer of this column is master of ceremonies on ABC-TV's new "Anybody Can Play" program, which bows July 6.

By GEORGE FENNEMAN

NEW YORK (AP)—For years, Groucho Marx has kiddingly challenged me by declaring, "Fenneman, if you're so smart, why don't you get your own show?"

And so when television producer John Guedel, who's been my boss on Groucho's "You Bet Your Life" program since 1947, recently offered me the chance to emcee his new show, "Anybody Can Play," I jumped at the opportunity.

Groucho, when he heard the news, told me: "George, I'm glad you have your own TV show—I'm going right out and buy a radio."

When I take over as the Anybody Can Play emcee Sunday, July 6, on ABC-TV, I will be returning to the network that gave me one of my first jobs in radio—as a staff announcer on station KGO, in San Francisco in 1942.

Despite my elation that with my own show I cannot take Groucho at his word, there is a far more serious reason as to why I am delighted with it.

"Anybody Can Play" is an audience participation show which has been especially tailored for the all-too-often neglected home viewer. Guedel, who intended the singing commercial as well as the audience participation show, has crammed a series of amusing and unusual games into the format.

Now all those arm-chair quiz masters at home can join in the fun—and win prizes too. Also the prizes that will be offered to the viewers at home far outdistance those that will go to the four contestants on the show.

Home viewers can compete for the $10,000 first prize. They also can win other cash prizes, convertibles, kitchens and condiments. Yes, "Anybody Can Play"—even Groucho.

With that kind of programing idea, I think you can't help but come out ahead.

It has always seemed to me that too many of our TV game and audience participation shows have quickly lost their excitement and interest because they confined themselves solely to the playing of one game over and over, and because it was forgotten that above all any show's primary reason for existence is to entertain.

The secret of a popular and lasting show, I believe, is a simple basic format which can be presented in a different way each week.

I think the audience participation show is going to be with us for a long time because the viewing audience enjoys watching people under the pressure of answering questions. I know they will also delight in the chance to pit their own knowledge against that of the show's contestants.

When, in addition, the package is attractively wrapped and presented, there is a payoff in fun and prizes for everyone. That has been the secret of success of TV shows featuring stars like Groucho Marx and Art Linkletter. I hope, too, it bodes well for the success of Anybody Can Play. I know Groucho will be watching—even if it's only to look at a pretty girl or to see if I steal any of his jokes.

The Perils of Friendship

In the atmosphere of these times, even men of manifest integrity can misjudge the uses of friendship. Presidential Assistant Sherman Adams, like some others before him, seems to have made such a misjudgment.

Because Bernard Goldfine was an old friend, Adams could see nothing improper in accepting favors from him. He judged this to be the normal privilege of any man.

The hard fact is, however, that a public official, particularly one so close to the seat of power, cannot safely allow himself the ordinary perquisites and attitudes of friendship.

He is in a position to be influenced, and to exercise influence, and therein lies the danger.

It makes no difference whether any friend has business with the government or not. Any businessman, any citizen, may at some time have such business. No matter how faint the prospect, he who holds a public trust cannot take the risk.

This was Adams' misjudgment. It was akin to former Secretary of State Dean Acheson's error in declaring that he could not "turn his back on Alger Hiss." The loyalty he showed to a friend is a trait we all admire. But its public display was a luxury Acheson had no right to indulge as a high official whose pronouncements affected his country's standing.

Admittedly it is difficult for even the most honorable government men to take themselves out of the gift-giving atmosphere that marks this expense-account age. Nevertheless it is an effort they are bound to make if they would keep faith with the people of this nation.

By the same token, a highly placed official like Adams is compelled to resist offering even the most routine assistance to a friend who is either in difficulty with or wants something from the government.

He knows better than anyone that the mere mention of the magic words "White House" transforms even the briefest, most matter-of-fact telephone call into a kind of pressure. The evidence indicates Goldfine, for one, fully understood this, and that he made use of his contact in this regard.

Friendship is a wonderful thing. But when it is put side by side with power it constitutes a potential peril to the public trust.

A Contrast In Hotel Accommodations

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—Inasmuch as this writer incurred Harry Truman's explosive wrath for focusing attention on General Vaughan's operations in the White House, perhaps I can be forgiven for making some comparisons between free hotel bills in Democratic days and free hotel bills in Republican days.

Sherman Adams has now been shown to have received the following free hotel accommodations all paid for by his friend, Bernard Goldfine: Sheraton-Plaza Hotel in Boston—about $2,000. Waldorf-Astoria Hotel in New York—$265.05. Mayflower in Plymouth, Mass.—$262.29. The total Mayflower bill, covering the Goldfines, the Adamases, and Mr. and Mrs. Sam Savat of Worcester, totaled $1,306 for five days. The total amount paid by Goldfine for Mr. and Mrs. Adams at the various hotels was over $2,500.

Let's compare this with another hotel bill which also won headlines as the result of another congressional committee probe. In 1951, the Senate banking committee, headed by Senator Fulbright of Arkansas, a Democrat who was investigating other Democrats, revealed that Donald Dawson, of Truman's staff, had spent 22 days at the Hotel Saxony in Miami Beach in March and April, 1950. When he went to pay his bill the public relations office told him the bill was already paid. Total $660.

The Saxony had previously borrowed $1,500,000 from the RFC, and Dawson previously handled personnel at the RFC.

When the facts were disclosed, Dawson promptly went before the Senate banking committee. He testified that he had never before known George Sax, owner of the hotel, had not known that he received an RFC loan, and as personnel director at the RFC was in no position to scrutinize or pass upon loans.

Sherman Adams has admitted intervening on behalf of the man who paid his bills. Dawson testified he did not intervene on behalf of the Hotel Saxony.

Press Comparison

The comparison might be carried one step further to include public reaction.

Said the New York Herald Tribune, May 12, 1951, of Donald Dawson: "Mr. Dawson has very little notion of what is proper or improper. The best proof of that rests on his own story of staying free in a $30-a-day room at the Saxony Hotel at Miami Beach. . . . The people expect a high official in the White House to know the difference between proper and improper, and the Saxony episode will be remembered."

Said the New York Herald Tribune, June 13, 1958, of Sherman Adams: "Whoever knows Sherman Adams knows that he is as honest as the day is long. His personal integrity is as flinty

Guest Editorial

JEFFERSON CITY NEWS-TRIBUNE: Cooperation the Keynote. The Mid-Missouri Development Council has unveiled a policy designed to locate an industrial prospect in one of its member communities even if the initial one should be turned down.

The significant step came last Thursday when the council's board adopted a report calling for completion by member communities of a form sheet on industrial potential. The sheets will be assembled into a booklet and returned to participating communities.

Here's how the cooperative angle will work out. If a town gets an industrial prospect which it cannot accommodate, it will try to sell the prospect on locating in one of the other communities in the council.

The booklet carrying fact sheets on each of the participating communities obviously will be most helpful to the industrial prospect. He will have a nutshell summary of what any of the towns has to offer in the way of sites and one community to suggest another town to the other pertinent data. Likewise, the plan permits prospect if it fails to attract the industry itself.

The policy embodies one of the major aims of the council—that is to attract industry to Mid-Missouri regardless of where it is located.

The Mid-Missouri Development Council is only a fledgling organization. But it has made rapid organizational progress in a few short months.

The cooperative report, worked out by the council's research and study committee headed by Jefferson City's F. Joe DeLong, is evidence of this progress.

While industrial development is the major goal of the participating communities, the council undoubtedly will explore many other facets aimed at the growth and progress of the area.

Certainly, one of these should be a similar cooperative effort in attracting tourists. At present Mid-Missouri communities can do this only on a limited basis. The Lake of the Ozarks Association and other organizations have the tools to attract tourists on a broader scale.

If these efforts could be lumped together, Mid-Missouri would benefit immeasurably.

and as incorruptible as a piece of New Hampshire granite. Those who are using the Boston Hotel bills as an attack upon his character will find such tactics will only boomerang against themselves. The accommodations in question had been rented originally on a continuing basis by a long-time personal friend, Bernard Goldfine."

Washington Whirl

House sleuths have been checking rumors that textile millionaire Bernard Goldfine put up the money for Sherman Adams' home in Washington. However, they found that the embattled assistant president leases his home and pays the rent by personal check. . . . The worst the investigators could prove was that Adams used to be slow paying his $10-per-month garage bill to Mrs. James Noonan, an elderly woman. She phoned the real estate agency repeatedly and begged it to collect Adams' tardy rent. (He has now moved his car to another garage.) . . . Congressional probes are also investigating the stock purchases of Andrew Orrick, senior Republican on the Securities and Exchange Commission. He purchased some General Motors stock within 60 days of a new issue, which is against the law. When it was called to his attention, he sold the stock at a loss. . . . The investigators are now checking whether Orrick profited in stock gains from any of the decisions he made as a SEC commissioner. They have also learned he took free trips to White Sulphur Springs, W.Va., courtesy of a bankers' association, and to Hot Springs, Va., courtesy of the American Society of Corporate Secretaries. Yet he sits on the commission which regulates banks and corporations.

Adams-Goldfine

It's interesting to note that GOP Congressman John Heseltin of Massachusetts threw in the sponge on exactly the same day the Harris subcommittee, of which he is a member, opened its explosive Boston hearings on Sherman Adams and the Boston-Traveler's TV channel. On that day, Heseltin announced he was not running for re-election. He is a close friend of Adams, had been up to his eyebrows in trying to prevent the congressional probe of channel 5 in Boston and Adams' operations. . . . Congressman Bob Hale of Maine, also a member of the Harris subcommittee, has been conspicuously absent during several recent hearings. Hale was re-elected by a margin of about 30 votes last time, and probably won't be re-elected this fall. He is a 19th century gentleman, close friend of Sherman Adams, has been troubled over the number of French-Canadians now being elected mayors of Maine cities. As his district has become industrialized, Hale, a Yankee of the old school, has become almost a stranger. . . . Sen. Frederick Payne of Maine had the late ex-Gov. Paul Dever, Democrat, of Massachusetts working for him as a personal favor when Sen. Owen Brewster of Maine was trying to block Payne from taking his seat. Ironically, Brewster has recently been Payne's campaign adviser. . . . Sam Shears, Boston attorney for the Herald-Traveler, who accused the Harris subcommittee of "McCarthyism," is the same lawyer who was considered as attorney for the Senate committee investigating the Army but was turned down because he was too pro-McCarthy.

Payment For Blood

In a recent address before the annual meeting in San Francisco of the National Red Cross Chairman E. Roland Harriman announced a plan to help finance next year's program in addition to its regular campaign.

The Red Cross will receive from the Veterans' Administration, the Department of Defense, and the Department of Health and Welfare, $450 for every pint of blood used by any of these agencies. The blood itself will be provided free by the generous blood-giving public but it is estimated by the Red Cross that it costs $6 per pint to collect it in blood-mobility, hospitals, nursing service, etc. Charging the government agency users will only defray part of the cost.

Mr. Harriman also made clear the position of the Red Cross in relation to United Fund drives throughout the country. He said: "The basic policy of the Red Cross authorizes any chapter to go into a fund raising partnership, but requires the chapter to retain exclusive control of its campaign and operating budgets. Obviously such control means control of program."

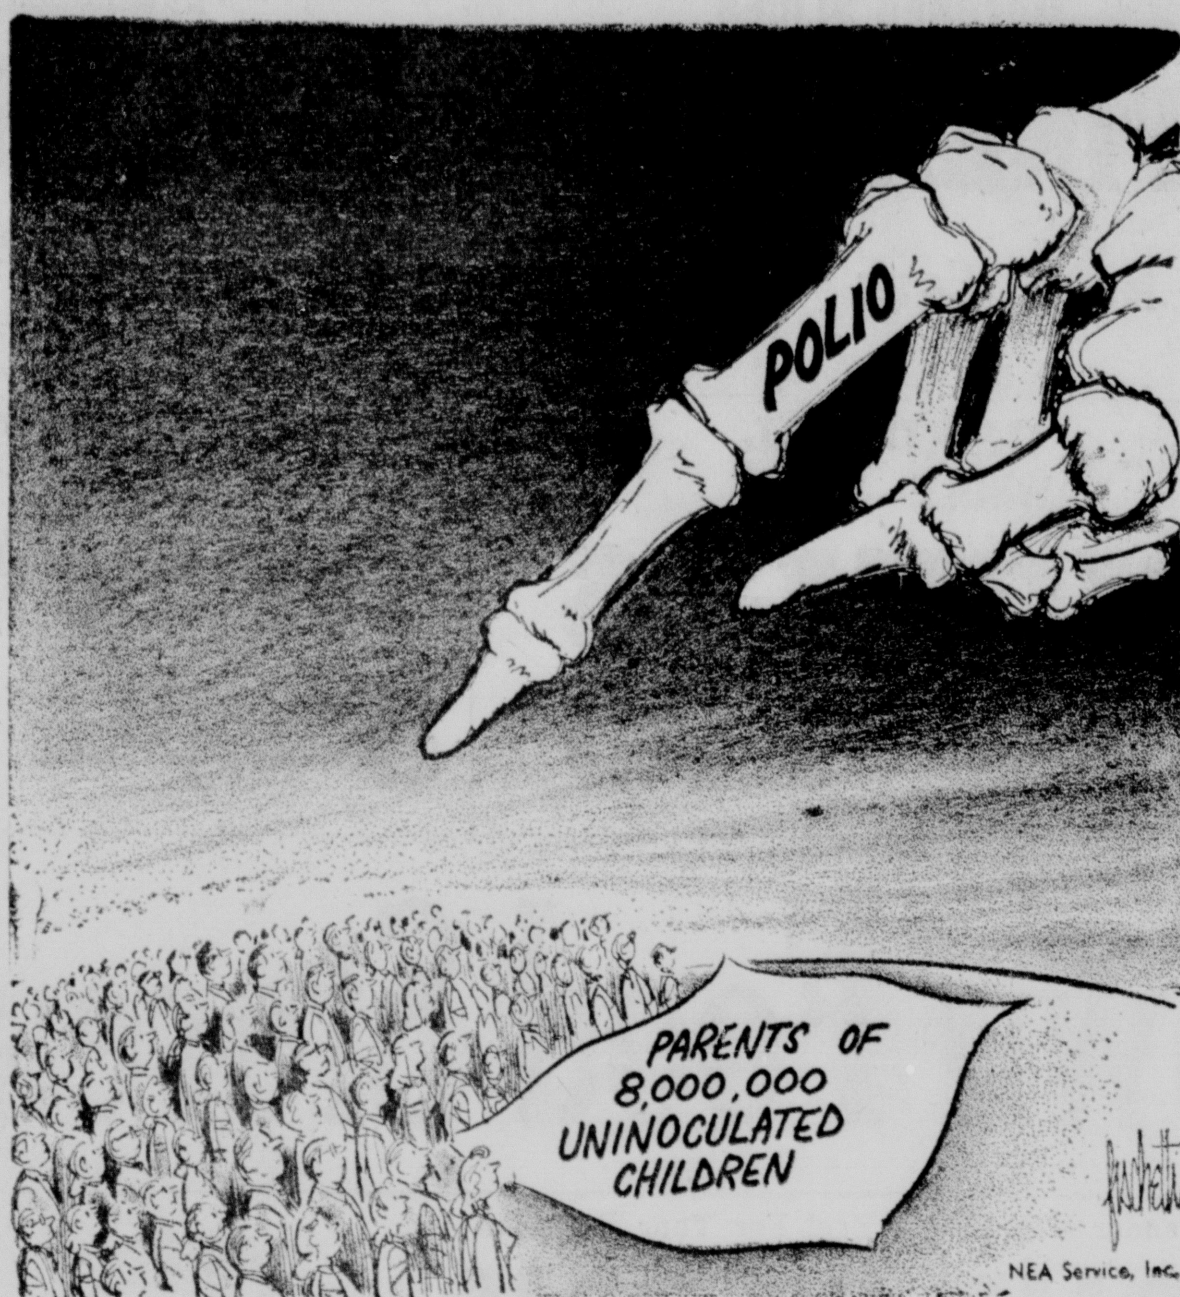

The American Red Cross is a quasi-governmental organization with headquarters and executive residence in the nation's capital. General Alfred Gruenther is its executive director.

Tax Returns Should Indicate Friendship

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—Just how much friendship was involved in Sherman Adams' free-loading at the expense of Boston millionaire Bernard Goldfine—should come to light in Goldfine's income tax returns.

Adams, President Eisenhower's right-hand man, calls Goldfine, a textile manufacturer, an old-time family friend. But a key question is this:

When Goldfine paid the more than $2,000 in hotel bills which Adams charged to him, did he do it as a friend or did he deduct the money from his income tax as a business expense?

Adams—in the picture emerging from a House subcommittee inquiry into the Adams-Goldfine relationship—does not appear as a fast man with a buck.

A subcommittee investigator reported that Adams, while staying in Goldfine's hotel suite at Goldfine's expense, not only charged to Goldfine one dollar for a bowl of ice but a 25-cent tip for the bellboy who brought it.

Adams told the subcommittee this week that Goldfine had invited him to use without cost hotel suites in Boston, New York and Plymouth, Mass., and Adams did. Friend or not, Goldfine in turn used Adams—who cooperated in Federal Trade Commission information which the subcommittee counsel says should not, by FTC rule and by federal law, be revealed.

with the FTC—for allegedly mislabeling a fabric—instead of going to the agency to find out what it was all about he went to Adams and asked him.

Adams asked the FTC for information, got it, and turned it over to Goldfine. Subcommittee counsel Robert Lishman says FTC rules and law forbid giving out this information. It contained the name of the company complaining against Goldfine.

Goldfine is supposed to be called before the subcommittee. Lishman then will be in a position to ask him whether he deducted Adams' hotel bills as a business expense.

The Internal Revenue Service will not reveal this kind of information to newsmen. Sometimes this information is given to a congressional committee, but only with presidential consent.

At his news conference Wednesday Eisenhower was asked if he would order the Internal Revenue Service to release the Goldfine in-

Your Child's Health

Telling Child's Pretended Ills From Real Is Problem

By Edwin P. Jordan, M. D.

When I was a boy my parents sometimes made me do things which I did not want to do. On one occasion they sent me to dancing school.

I didn't like it the first time. When the time to go again came around I said I had a "headache" and couldn't go. This did not fool my parents for long and back I went. Later I was glad that I had been forced into it.

No doubt every parent at one time or another has to decide whether some "symptom" of their child is the result of real illness or just "put on" as an excuse. Recollections of their own youth will often help them.

Sometimes it takes a good deal of ingenuity and patience, not only to find out what is really causing a youngster to complain, but also what to do about it.

Children will pretend to notice a sniffle coming on, complain of a stomach ache, or develop some other symptom when faced with something they want to avoid.

The Mediterranean, the largest landlocked sea in the world, is the remains of a much larger body of water. A few million years ago, this greater sea, called Tethys by geologists, extended eastward across southern Asia. Later the shores of Tethys were thrust together as the earth's crust contracted. Much of the sea bottom was pushed up and wrinkled to form such mountain systems as the Alps, Apennines and Atlas.

California Political Picture

Nixon Will Edge Away From Weak Knowland Campaign

By JOSEPH A. DEAR
Of Our Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON — The saying that there's something rather pleasing about the misfortune of our best friends is particularly pertinent to California politics.

Vice President Richard Nixon did want his Republican colleague, Senator William Knowland, to make a good showing in the California primary. Knowland didn't. It will be a political miracle if he wins the governorship race next fall.

If the Democrats sweep California, which is a distinct possibility, both Knowland and Nixon will be diminished. But there is no doubt about who stands to lose most. Knowland does.

His presidential ambitions will be entirely frustrated if Edmund "Pat" Brown, Democrat, defeats him in the gubernatorial campaign. Nixon would be tarnished, too, but he would still be alive. And a potential rival for the 1960 GOP presidential nomination still would not.

Still, Nixon can't play safe now by divorcing himself from California politics. He is inextricably involved. The question is how Nixon can honor his home state commitments and at the same time avoid any intimate tie with the Knowland campaign.

The answer is simple enough. Nixon will edge away from Knowland, and stand behind Rep. Pat Hillings, the Republican candidate for attorney general.

Hillings represents the district that first sent Nixon to Congress. Hillings, according to political diagnosticians has the best chance of surviving the anticipated Democratic blizzard next fall. And better yet, from Nixon's viewpoint, Hillings' prospects seem none too bright at first glance.

Simple arithmetic indicates that Hillings faces an uphill battle. Registrations in California show that there are about 3.6 million Democrats and 2.7 million Republicans. The primary vote, on the basis of latest returns, totaled fractionally less than 3.6 million. And in a four way race for the attorney general nomination, Hillings polled less than 800,000 votes, while the successful Democratic candidate, Stan Mosk, polled nearly 1.2 million.

Moreover, the combined vote polled by Mosk and his unsuccessful rival for the Democratic nomination totaled 2.2 million, or double the vote polled by Hillings and his unsuccessful Republican opponent, Pat Brown, who swamped Knowland by 602,000 votes, can point to no such edge.

In the face of these figures, it would seem that Nixon had more to gain by going all out for Knowland. But the fact is that Hillings probably will have a better chance in the fall campaign.

Mosk is the only Democratic candidate for an important state office in California who represents the very liberal fringe of his party. Brown is a middle of the road Democrat. And so is Congressman Clair Engle, the Democratic senatorial candidate.

(Engle is a public power liberal. But he voted for Taft-Hartley, and to override Truman's veto of T-H. Nevertheless, Engle will enjoy all out labor support next fall, because Knowland has endorsed a proposal to outlaw the union shop.)

Thus Mosk is vulnerable, at least according to the theorists, whereas Brown and Engle are not. Hillings, himself a middle of the road type, should be more appealing than Mosk to the mass of California voters.

This line of thinking has caught Nixon's fancy. And that's one reason he'll probably move behind Hillings, and at the same time, away from Knowland.

Ruth Millett Says

If Sack Is Nothing Else, At Least It's in STYLE

"How can a woman get herself up to look like that?" asked a perplexed male in shocked disbelief as a short, dumpy, middle-aged woman walked away from him in a baggy sack dress, with the step of someone obviously satisfied with her appearance.

Thinking It Over

By Robert L. Dieffenbacher, D.D.

Some fishing enthusiasts will fish for many days without a bite. Some give up if they do not pull in their daily limit. The difference depends on the reason for fishing and the patience of the piscatorial enthusiast.

If you are going fishing, you will do well to determine whether you are impatient for action, whether you desire a full creel of fish for food, or whether you are seeking the quiet out-of-doors with an incidental interest in casting or still-fishing. Having decided on this purpose you can determine where you will fish, how you will fish and what to use for bait.

When Jesus was a fisherman for men He determined to leave the results up to man. He was so patient that He could spend a lifetime only to find no one with Him at the end. And the bait He used was the love of sinners while hanging sin. If we are to follow Christ's example, we must be fully patient, oblivious to human criticism or flattery, and we must be determined to offer ourselves to win others.

No matter how becoming an outdated fashion might be to a woman, just knowing that it is becoming isn't enough to give her self-assurance.

Self-assurance comes from knowing that she is in style—that she is wearing the latest thing.

Pointed-toe shoes may make her feel "lo" three sizes larger—but if they are in style, she will wear them with pride.

She may look like a sack in a sack dress—but that's a minor matter, so long as she knows she is up-to-date in her dress.

Five years from now we women will be asking ourselves, "How did we ever wear anything as awful as the sack?" But when we ask the question we'll be wearing whatever happens to be in style at the moment—whether it is becoming or not. And we'll feel just as secure as we feel today in the sack.

Now do you understand, sir? No, I didn't think you would. We no half-way understand ourselves why it doesn't matter how we look, just so long as we are in style.

THE BOYS IN BLUE—Twice a week at Ohio State University in Columbus they prepare to fight the Civil War again, where a squad of Union infantrymen and their commander, William Vance, drill with authentic 1863-vintage Springfield rifles. Members of the Pershing Rifles, a national ROTC group drill, they call themselves the Grand Army of the Republic, Restored, and march according to the book—in this case the War Department's 1863 Drill Manual. They and a Confederate group at the University of Kentucky are the only Civil War drill squads left in the nation. Heavy Media Separation Plant

Million-Dollar Plant Begins Operation to Produce Iron

By LARRY HALL

TERESITA, Mo. (AP)—Here on the edge of the Irish Wilderness, a wild and wooded section of the Ozarks, a million-dollar plant has started operations to produce iron.

It is called a heavy media separation plant and is the first of its kind for Missouri.

Operated by Shook and Fletcher Supply Co., of Russellville, Ala., the plant has been turning out about five carloads of brown iron ore—about 250-350 tons a day—since it started in mid-May.

Allen Grissom, 35-year-old Shook and Fletcher man from Russellville, is in charge. He says the plant is turning out ore that is 50 to 55 per cent iron. Grissom says when the plant is in full operation it will produce around six railroad carloads a day.

The processed ore is trucked to Montier, about eight miles away on U. S. 60. It's shipped from there via the Frisco railroad to the Birmingham, Ala., smelters. The railroad also runs through Teresita but there is no loading spur yet.

The new plant in the southwestern corner of Shannon County is a sharp contrast with the old pick-and-shovel, team-and-wagon methods of mining Missouri's low grade brown ore.

No one ever made much money from the shallow deposits unless the price was high.

Grissom says he doesn't know how the present venture will turn out. He's a production man, not an economist. But this is the first job he's bossed on his own. And he's optimistic.

He has a super-modern plant to work with and no one knows how much brown ore to supply it. Here's the layout:

On one side of Shannon County Route T are the leased ore deposits. They're scooped out with the kind of an excavating shovel you can see on any road project or quarry.

Loaded into trucks, the ore is taken across the road to an ordinary washing plant—again the kind you can see in any stone quarry. Some impurities are taken out here.

The washed ore is transported on moving belts to the heavy media separation plant, a three-story steel-girded creature with jiggling tables, moving belts and a big revolving steel drum.

It is in the revolving drum that the magic wastes are floated to the top and the 50 per cent ore is drained off at the bottom.

At the separation point, the light colored waste moves off to a dump on one belt, the rich, dark brown ore moves off to the waiting trucks on another belt. From start to finish the ore travels a mechanical route of about 375 feet.

The plant has its own water supply from a 1,200-foot well that pumps 350 gallons a minute. It also generates its own power with a big diesel engine that drinks 800 to 1,300 gallons of fuel oil a day.

At the end of the process a magnetic separator takes the impurities out of the chemical solution and it is used again.

All of this process is directed from an electric control board—the complex nerve center of a mechanical world. Only 13 men are employed in the whole process.

Grissom says the Shook and Fletcher company drilled test holes for about three years before deciding to locate the new plant near Teresita. The tests showed the ore body was about a hundred feet deep.

Esko Ollila Speaks At Striped College 4-H

Esko Ollila was the speaker at Striped College 4-H Club meeting June 4, held at the school house, at which time he told in an interesting manner of his native Finland and of the 4-H clubs there.

Demonstrations were given by Janice Ratje, John Dale Hansen, Joy Carver, and Leland Finley.

The club will take a tour of Whiteman Air Force Base on July 11, and eat a sack lunch at Knob Noster according to Carolyn Staley. Donnie Shirley told of the menu and program planned for Family Night which will be July 9 at 6:30 p.m.

The following committees were appointed: radio program chairman, Margaret Bohon, Lyndin Goodwin, Rose Morarity and Johnny Garst; litterbug committee chairman Kim Dabner, Mary Bahner, John Dale Hansen, Judy Hopkins.

Project reports were given as follows: woodwork, Kim Dabner; junior leaders, Mrs. Ted Dabner; clothing, Mary Louise Bahner; field crops, Bill Goodwin; dairy, William Finley; sow and litter, Donnie Shirley; duck, Michael Dabner; buying and wearing clothes, Carolyn Staley.

There were 43 members present. The next meeting will be held July 2, at Striped College School.

Baptist Circle Meets With Mrs. Hutchison

Mrs. Alpha Hutchison, California, was hostess on Monday night at her home to 14 members of the Business Women's Circle of the First Baptist Church. Mrs. Paul Bolinger gave the Royal Service program and her topic was "Threshold of Life". Mrs. T. W. Howard gave the devotional "In The Temple".

Others who assisted on the program were Mrs. Bond Proctor, Miss Oma Cunningham, Mrs. Walter Eitzen, Mrs. Edgar Dunham, Miss Mary Louise Crum, Mrs. Alpha Hutchison, Mrs. George Oesterly, Mrs. Clarence Britton and Mrs. A. E. McDaniel. Mrs. Walter Eitzen sang a solo "Hark The Voice of Jesus Is Calling".

The circle sent a contribution to the Baptist Children Home at Pattonville, Mo. Following the program the hostess served refreshments.

Farm Loan Association Directors Hold Meet

The board of directors of the National Farm Loan Association of Sedalia met in Sedalia Friday, June 13, with D. L. Kauffman, Versailles, president of the association, presiding.

Much discussion was entered into concerning the present demand for, and the cost of loans to farmers. The present interest rate is five per cent and loans are made for a long period of time.

Other members of the board of directors representing their own areas are John H. Langkop Jr., California; L. E. Dury, Hughesville; Marvin Goodwin, Sedalia; and Morton Tuttle, Prairie Home.

Missionary Club Meets

The Missionary Society of the Houstonia Community Church met Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. John Rissler. Nine members present.

Mrs. Leland Tuck was the leader of the topic "Be Ye Perfect in Attitude Toward God". Those assisting were Mrs. Jay Dorsey, Mrs. Fred Neef and Miss Ruby Tuck. The study was on Japan. Refreshments were served.

Congressional Probe Over Contract Hinted

Conversation Shows Sedalia Company Won't Get Contract

By JOE DEAR
Of Our Washington Bureau
WASHINGTON — The chairman of the House Small Business Subcommittee today hinted there may be a congressional investigation of a contract which was denied a Sedalia firm by the Small Business Administration.

Rep. Abraham Multer (D-N.Y.) told Small Business Administrator Wendell Barnes the representations which won the U.M. & F. Company of Dallas a contract to manufacture $272,000 of metal cabinets to house electronic equipment "warrants investigation."

The U.M. & F. Company edged out the National Engineering & Manufacturing Company of Sedalia by less than $10,000. Barnes at first ruled that the Sedalia firm should have received the contract under the set-aside procurement program, which earmarks a portion of the government's business for smaller industrial concerns.

Barnes told Rep. Multer, at a subcommittee hearing, that he finally ruled in favor of the Dallas firm because of the information it supplied in three affidavits. At issue was whether the Dallas firm could qualify as a small business.

Some U.M. & F. directors are associated with Clint Murchison, a Texas oilman with diverse business interests. A Murchison company also has a substantial stock holding in U.M. & F.

Barnes, who told the subcommittee he was an independent oil contractor in Texas before coming to Washington, said the affidavits supplied by U.M. & F. carried great weight with him. He noted that anyone who swore falsely in an affidavit would be liable to prosecution by the Justice Department. He indicated doubt that any responsible businessman would expose himself to such danger.

Barnes also told the subcommittee that a representative of National Engineering and Manufacturing was "abusive and threatening."

After the hearing, Vernon Ro-

Soviets Stop Delivery Of Farm Goods

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Communist party's Central Committee announced Friday the abolition of compulsory deliveries of collective farm products to the state. The system had been one of the main bases of the Communist agricultural setup.

Payment in kind—in grain and other products — also is to give way, it promised, to compensation under a new system of prices for farm products.

This apparently drastic revision of the Soviet agricultural purchasing network was announced without specific detail after a plenary session of the Central Committee in Moscow Tuesday and Wednesday.

Premier Nikita Khrushchev has been a foremost advocate of overhauling Soviet farm policies as part of the campaign to overtake the United States in agricultural production.

The committee named two new candidate members to the party Presidium, but there was no major shakeup.

One is N. V. Podgorny, first secretary of the Ukrainian Communist party, who is considered a protégé of Khrushchev. The other is Premier D. S. Poliansky of the Russian Federation, largest of the Soviet Union's republics.

The committee decisions on agriculture included new systems of setting prices on farm produce and of state procurement and distribution of these products. Neither system was defined, although the announcement indicated the pricing will be less arbitrary than the current one.

It said the pricing system would bear a closer relation to actual cost.

Khrushchev's speech presenting the new plan probably will not be published before Saturday. It may clarify some questions.

Although the announcement said the plan will go into effect beginning in 1958 it did not specify whether this is retroactive to Jan. 1 or may be some later date.

Cattle Stealing Report In Versailles Area

VERSAILLES, Mo. (AP)—An outbreak of cattle rustling in this area was reported today by Sheriff J. T. Hull.

The sheriff said his office has received five reports of cattle thefts or attempted thefts in the past several days.

Five head have been listed as taken but the sheriff said he feels others may not have been reported.

Kiwanis Club Has Talk On Investments

Chairman Releases Results On Recent Attendance Contest

An illustrated talk on "Investment in Mutual Funds," was given by Dr. Lloyd R. Chance, sales director for Washington Planning Corp., Kansas City, before the Sedalia Kiwanis club in Bothwell Hotel Thursday noon.

The speaker and his assistant, Edward Crow, were introduced by Arthur J. Morgan, program chairman.

Presiding in the absence of President Edward R. Sims was vice-president Sylvan Woolery.

James Ryan, chairman of the attendance contest which was won by Team 3 headed by Bill Dugan scoring 100%; Team 4 with Jack Shoemaker as chairman scored second with 97.77%; Team 1 with Clarence Carter chairman scored third with 94.87%; and Team 2 with Pinkney Miller chairman, scored fourth with 93.76%.

The latter team will serve as waiters at a Ladies Night dinner to be held in Flat Creek Inn at 7 o'clock Thursday night, June 26. Because of this event there will be only a round table club meeting in Bothwell Hotel next Thursday noon.

A welcome was extended the Rev. Roy Strubling, new pastor of the First Methodist church, who was a member of the Lamar Kiwanis club, and becomes a member now of the Sedalia club. Also welcomed back to regular meetings was Past President Walter Kennedy who has been absent during the past year recovering from an injury.

Invocation was by the Rev. Arthur Schmidt who also led the singing with Miss Lillian Fox as accompanist.

A. H. Wilks, co-chairman of the Inter Club Relations committee reported on the District Golf Tournament held in Moberly last week which was attended by himself, Lieut. Gov. L. A. Pharris, Ed McLaughlin, Pinkney Miller and John Snodgrass of the local club.

Guests Thursday were: Postmaster George Raouls, Pitcher, Okla., with John Ryan; L. L. Studer with Frank Wagner; and H. G. Wolfe, Centertown, with Chris Roese.

Britain Has New Plans For Cyprus

Issue Spreads Grave Concern Among Allies

LONDON (AP)—Britain has offered to share administration of Cyprus now—and sovereignty seven years hence—with Greece and Turkey, the quarrelsome NATO allies.

Standing before the House of Commons, Prime Minister Macmillan Thursday unfolded his long-awaited plan for the future of the crown colony. This is an issue that has spread concern through the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Greece wants the Mediterranean island, Turkey once owned Cyprus and now demands it be partitioned between the Greek Cypriot majority and the Turkish minority.

Macmillan sent off personal appeals to Athens and Ankara, asking Greece and Turkey to consider his offer in a spirit of cooperation and moderation. Both had insisted in advance his plan was unacceptable.

The Greek Cabinet met in Athens and studied the plan for 2½ hours without announcing a decision. Authoritative sources said, however, the plan was basically unacceptable even though it may be backed by NATO and Washington.

Turkey rejected the plan, but suggested in a moderately worded statement it could be a basis for future discussions among Greece, Turkey and Britain. Turkish Cypriots also disapproved.

Newsmen in Nicosia were told the plan would be launched regardless of its reception, though the mechanics are left open for future discussion.

Sources in Paris said, however, the NATO Permanent Council had failed to get Greece, Turkey and Britain together for a three-power conference.

Macmillan gave the House of Commons the details of the British plan. For the next seven years, he said, Britain, Greece and Turkey and the Greek and Turkish Cypriots would work together in "an adventure in partnership."

Then, when the time came for a final settlement, Greece and Turkey would join Britain in holding sovereignty over the strategic, sun-baked 3,752-square mile island.

Junior 4-H Leaders to Hold State Conference

OSAGE BEACH, Mo. (AP)—More than 150 junior 4-H club leaders are expected to attend their annual state conference which will open at Clover Point on the Lake of the Ozarks Monday.

One of the purposes of the five-day meeting will be to prepare the leaders to conduct five district meetings later this year. The district meetings will be at Roaring River State Park July 8-10, Rolla July 28-30, Canton July 29-31, Wapapello Aug. 4-6, and Knob Noster State Park Sept. 26-28.

Professional speakers will be on hand to give the leaders training in public speaking.

Market for Kansas Grasshoppers Found

GARDEN CITY, Kan. (AP)—Kansas' bumper grasshopper harvest has found a ready market.

Park Supt. Claude Owens got a letter from Theodore Reed, director of the Smithsonian Zoological Park in Washington.

It's too early for hoppers there, Reed wrote, saying he would like to have some as tidbits for his reptiles and birds.

Owens and his aides stepped outside the door and banded 250 grasshoppers, then airmailed them to Reed.

127 Missouri CAP Cadets At Whiteman

One hundred twenty-seven Civil Air Patrol Cadets of the Missouri Wing are attending the annual CAP Cadet Summer Encampment at Whiteman Air Force Base.

The cadets, boys and girls between the ages of 14 and 18, arrived at Whiteman on June 16. They were welcomed at the flight line by Lt. Col. Harry W. Robb, Deputy Base Commander. Also on hand to greet the cadets were Col. J. Orville Ladd, CAP, of Maryville, Missouri Wing Commander, and Lt. Col. Maurilius Sikorski, CAP, of St. Louis, CAP Encampment Commander.

Participating from the Sedalia Composite Squadron is William L. Holloway.

On-the-spot Air Force training will be offered the cadets during the 12-day encampment. The facilities, personnel and equipment of Whiteman AFB are being made available to the CAP cadets, which will augment the class training they have received prior to the encampment.

The training schedule includes familiarization with the B-47 and KC-97 aircraft, MTD engines, synthetic trainers, and the carbine and 45 caliber weapons. The cadets will receive demonstrations of parachute packing, judo, land and water survival, crash equipment.

Garcia Wants Money Loan, Not Handout

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Carlos P. Garcia of the Philippines said Thursday his country does not want any handout or grant from the United States. "We want development loans on a strictly business basis."

Garcia discussed the Philippine situation in a talk at the National Press Club, in which he also promised to solve the "problem of corruption" troubling his government.

The Asian leader is seeking about $30 million dollars in financial assistance from the United States.

He outlined his plans this way: "What we need immediately is a credit line against which we could draw from time to time for such specific development projects as the considered judgment of Filipino experts would deem to be wise and prudent. We do not want any handout or an outright financial grant."

Garcia also asked for a review of financial claims that have been brought against the United States by individuals and firms in his country, largely arising out of World War II. Some of these concern payments to Filipinos for war services and some have to do with property lost or damaged. Philippine reports of such claims run as high as $800 million dollars.

New Scout Troop Formed; To Have Social Tonight

Sedalia now has a new Boy Scout troop, Troop 53, which has inaugurated as its first major project an ice cream social to be at the Courthouse parking lot Friday afternoon, June 20. The social is scheduled to start at five o'clock, continuing until about 9 p.m.

The new troop will make its headquarters at Jefferson School. There has never been a troop in this district previously, although the idea for one has been in the minds of many for several years. Now, due to the instrumental efforts of Officer Riley of the Sedalia Police Department, Police Chief Ralph Hamlin, and of their supporters, the new troop has officially been formed. The Police Department is backing the new unit all the way, one for which a bright future is seen.

The public is invited to attend the social Friday.

Hammaraskjold Mission May Determine West Intervention

Mrs. L. L. Malcolm relaxes on the foundation of what was her home until a tornado swept it away last week at El Dorado, Kan. The town is now in the process of rebuilding. Workmen are reconstructing a neighbor's house. Much of the debris in El Dorado has been cleared but a piece of metal still hangs from the telephone pole, upper right, where it was deposited by the twister which killed 13 and injured more than 50. Mrs. Malcolm had just moved to her home 18 days before it was leveled. (AP Wirephoto).

New Repercussions

Knowland Suggests Adams Might Be Hurting Administration Policies

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Sherman Adams case stirred up new repercussions Thursday with Senate Republican Leader William F. Knowland suggesting Adams may be hurting Eisenhower administration policies.

On the other hand, four Republican senators came to the defense of Adams, President Eisenhower's chief assistant. They commended Eisenhower for not being "stampeded" into firing Adams and said the White House aide "should now be given a chance to do his job."

Adams has been under fire from House investigators for contacting federal agencies on behalf of an old friend, New England industrialist Benjamin Goldfine, who had paid some of his hotel bills and bestowed other favors on him.

Sen. Frederick G. Payne (R-Maine) said Thursday he got information from one of the agencies—the Securities and Exchange Commission—about a case involving a Goldfine firm. Payne also told a reporter he has stayed in Boston hotels at the Boston industrialist's expense. Previously he has said he accepted a coat from Goldfine.

Rep. George Christopher (D-Mo.) demanded Eisenhower either order prosecution of Adams or else pardon Matthew Connelly, Connelly, onetime aide to former President Truman, has been sentenced to two years in prison after being convicted of conspiring to fix an income tax case. Legal moves are in progress to delay his scheduled start of the jail term Saturday.

Christopher, who represents Truman's congressional district, said Connelly is going to prison "for doing almost exactly what Sherman Adams was doing."

About 100 House members were on hand, and Democrats applauded when Christopher, who is crippled, rolled his wheel chair from the well of the House after saying: "I am demanding that President Eisenhower . . . either instruct the Justice Department to prosecute Sherman Adams or that he pardon Matt Connelly, one of the other."

Rep. Charles E. Chamberlain, seeking re-election as a Republican House member from Michigan, recalled the mink coat and freezer gift disclosures of the Truman administration and said: "To condone or even accept the actions of Mr. Adams would have the effect of establishing a double set of standards." Chamberlain went on to say: "I agree with Mr. Adams' previous and often stated principles of good, clean government. I think Mr. Adams ought to apply the same principle to himself."

No Alarm Necessary Over Park Lot Blaze

There was no reason for alarm about the blaze at Fourth and Massachusetts Thursday. Workmen were completing the razing of the building at the intersection to make way for the expansion of the city parking lot. Salvageable material had previously been removed, and the worthless material dumped into the basement and set fire. The basement will be filled in later.

At Trade Fair

Baby Chicks Become Weapon In Cold War

WASHINGTON (AP)—Baby chicks have become the newest weapon in the cold war.

Hatching out every 30 minutes, right on schedule, the chicks roll over, stretch—and delight visitors to the U.S. pavilion at the International Trade Fair in Poznan, Poland.

Let the Russians have their outer space. For real charm, a minute-old baby chicks is hard to beat.

It's not easy to explain the chicks' cold war role in this most complicated but interesting of all worlds. But Walter S. Shafer is willing to try.

Shafer, a robust, retired general sales manager and vice president of Armour & Co., has hired or as Uncle Sam's top trade fair salesman.

"I just got back from Poznan," Shafer said, "and it was a wonderful experience. We've tried to show how American industry works."

"Take the poultry display. These chicks were scheduled to hatch out so we would have a new bunch every 30 minutes. Then we took them step by step—not the same chicks, of course—as they grew up for market. Finally, there are the broilers on the roasting.

"You know, I've been in the food business all my life, and this is the first time I ever saw chicks hatching."

So much has been written about the World's Fair in Brussels, and which country had better displays, that the Polish fair has been fairly well forgotten. And this, apparently, includes the Russians.

You won't get anyone at the U. S. Office of International Trade Fairs to say so officially, but there's a feeling the Russians shot their all in Belgium and so didn't have much left for Poland.

At any rate, the U. S. display has been well-attended. So many showed up the first day 50 policemen were assigned to control the crowds.

Among the larger displays is the U. S. textile show. It takes cotton from the raw state all the way through to final production of our native costume—blue jeans.

And for those who fancy entertainment, there's color television.

Lebanon Has Quietest Day In Months

Rebels Continue To Man Fortifications In Capital Streets

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold arrived Thursday on a mission that may determine whether the Western powers intervene directly in Lebanon's rebellion.

The U.N.'s spreader of diplomatic balm was greeted by the quietest time this troubled country has had in more than a month. Rebel leaders had agreed to hold their fire while he is visiting. But rebels continued to man trenches and roadblocks in Beirut.

Most Lebanese, after 41 days of battles, riots, strikes, bombings and shootings in the effort of political factions to overthrow pro-Western President Camille Chamoun, were looking for any solution that would bring peace.

They hoped Hammarskjold, with his prestige and his record of settling previous Middle East problems, would hit on a solution.

Officially, Hammarskjold was to confer with the three leaders of a U. S. observation team ordered by the Security Council to see that arms and men from the neighboring United Arab Republic do not reach the rebels.

In the past he often has stepped in to settle bitter quarrels.

His central problem was that Lebanon has charged President Gamal Abdel Nasser's United Arab Republic with aiding the rebels.

The government feels that the 50 unarmed U. N. observers rushed in to watch the 150 miles of mountainous border are not equal to the job. Early this week it decided to ask Hammarskjold for a sizable body of troops, like the U. N. force now on guard along the Israeli-Egyptian Gaza border.

Some military experts said this might mean a force of up to 5,000 men. Creation of such a force would involve additional action by the Security Council—where the Soviet Union has a veto—by the U. N. General Assembly.

Should the secretary general be able to find a quick solution to what started out as an internal political dispute, the crisis might simmer down.

If he failed, there was a strong possibility that the Lebanese government would ask for American intervention.

Secretary of State Dulles has said American troops might be sent to Lebanon in certain conditions. The British government was reported to be ready to join in such a move. Britain has 35,000 troops at nearby Cyprus. Several thousand Marines are with the U. S. 6th Fleet in the Mediterranean.

Any decision by the Western powers to intervene apparently would depend upon how Hammarskjold and his observers sized up the situation, and whether such intervention was requested by the U. N. or Lebanon.

Hammarskjold talked briefly with Lebanese officials when he arrived, had a cup of Turkish coffee and then drove off to his hotel for a rest.

Afterward he began his conferences with the U. N. observation team—Norwegian Maj. Gen. Odd Bull; former President Gato Plaza Lasso of Ecuador; and Rajeswar Dayal, former Indian ambassador to the U. N.

Street Bazaar Will Be Held July 28 and 29

The latter part of July the Street Bazaar will be held again and will be sponsored by the retail division of the Chamber of Commerce, of which William T. Solon is director and Bob Wall general chairman.

This proved to be so successful last year that plans are to make it even better this year. The two-day bazaar, when merchants will take their wares out to the sidewalks in front of their stores, will be held Monday and Tuesday, July 28 and 29, during the regular store hours, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Organizations are invited to join in again and put booths up along the streets. Any club or organization wanting to participate is asked to secure their spot for a booth from a merchant, then notify the Chamber of Commerce. Some have already contacted merchants for places for their stands and have listed them with the Chamber.

Family Arrived Last Tuesday

Methodists' New Minister
Has Interesting Background

The Rev. H. E. Trevathan and his family, consisting of his wife, and six children, Joe, 15; Mike, 12; Pat, 10; Jinny, 8; Jeff, 6, and Debbie, 4, moved to Sedalia Tuesday of last week from Wayneville where they had been for one year. The Rev. Mr. Trevathan is the new pastor of the Epworth Methodist Church.

Born in McKenzie, Tenn., he received his education in the high and Bethel College in McKenzie, later going to the Candler School of Religion, Emory University, Atlanta, Ga. He accepted the call to the ministry in his senior year in high school and has been preaching for 18 years.

The Trevathans came to Missouri from Paducah, Ky., going to Houston, where they remained six and a half years. Ever since he had been in the ministry they had had a parsonage completely furnished provided for them, but Missourians didn't do that, so here they were with a house and no furniture. That was how their hobby of collecting antiques started. They had to have furniture so they went around buying up some old pieces and refinishing them. While they were looking for furniture they would find some nice china and glass pieces, so they bought those, too. The hobby grew until they had their home completely furnished with antiques, several thousand dollars worth which really cost them only about $300.

Mrs. Trevathan was formerly Vassie Lee Coleman, before her marriage, and she received her education at Lambuth College in Jackson, Tenn. It was to a church where Vassie Lee was a member that he was sent to preach and she has been a member of his congregation ever since, because he married her and took her with him.

Rev. Trevathan has always been active in Scout work, is a member of the Masonic Lodge and Eastern Star and has served on conference boards and commissions in the church.

Graham, Doherty
Capture Writing
Contest Prizes

M-Sgt. Harry L. Graham, Skywriter editor, won first and second place in the Whiteman Air Force Base short story contest, and 1st Lt. Joseph P. Doherty, Hq. Sq. 340th Bombardment Wing, won third. The Skywriter is the base's weekly newspaper.

For his efforts Graham will receive $40, $25 for first and $15 for second. Lt. Doherty will receive $10.

Judges were William C. Tucker, editor of the Warrensburg Star-Journal, Dr. C. F. Martin, former head of the English department at Central Missouri State College, and Miss Marie Dodd, formerly on the staff of the CMSJ department with Dr. Martin.

A member of Headquarters Squadron Air Base Group, Graham has won 17 cash prizes in Air Force short story contests in the past three years, and this is his fifth prize.

This was Lt. Doherty's first entry in Air Force short story competition. He won first prize in his college's contest while a student at Holy Cross.

The three winning stories have been forwarded to Eighth Air Force Headquarters for judging in its contest.

Sweepstakes Winnings
Pays for Heart Care

NEWARK, N. J. (AP) — Surgeons mended the faulty heart of Mrs. Mary Wisneski six years ago. But it was still torn by a debt of gratitude.

During the six years since the operation, Mrs. Wisneski had been embarrassed by her inability to pay for her treatment. Dr. Nicholas Antonius, medical director of St. Michael's Hospital, even had to scold her for staying away from his office when she needed post-operative care.

The operation, after 14 years of care, had put her back on her feet and allowed her to take a full-time job.

Yesterday, Mrs. Wisneski unburdened her heart of its debt. She presented Dr. Antonius and the hospital with a check for $10,000—part of the $140,000 top prize she got in March's Irish Sweepstakes.

Pfc Paxton Returns
To Ft. Lewis, Wash.

Pfc. John Paxton, son of Mrs. Jewell Paxton, 2117 East Broadway, returned to Ft. Lewis, Wash., this week after participating in exercise "Indian River," a giant maneuver testing the Army's new pentomic concept of battle.

The exercise pitted Pfc. Paxton and other 4th Infantry Division troops against "aggressor" forces in an 18,000-man battle fought the past two weeks at the Yakima Firing Center. The Firing Center spreads across 267,000 acres of central Washington north of Yakima.

Pfc. Paxton is assigned to the division's Battery B, 1st Field Artillery Bn., 20th Artillery, as a cannoneer.

New City Employee

Donald Duffer has been employed as the city patrolman and sewer disposal operator in Knob Noster to fill the position vacated by Charles Norman, Jr.

The council announced that it will enforce the city ordinance that all liquor places must close at 12 o'clock midnight.

COLOR THERAPY—Color and light are not listed in central pharmacy's files at Toledo Hospital, Toledo, Ohio, but those "medications" are being used in maximum dosages in its new, five-million-dollar wing. Pictured, above, is the recovery room, where post-surgical patients awaken, surrounded by light green walls and under a light gray ceiling. Each of the four floors is color-keyed to a different hue, designed to cheer both patients and staff. Fiberglass curtains, fluorescent light in warm tones and reproductions of good paintings in each room complement the color scheme.

Plans Completed
For Smithton's
Community Night

Plans have been completed for the annual community night and ice cream social of the Smithton community. It will be held Friday evening, June 27, at Smithton Park at 7:30 o'clock. In case of inclement weather it will be at the Smithton High School.

This annual event, which has always drawn capacity crowds from Smithton and its surrounding communities, has proved to be a fine evening for fellowship. Proceeds from the social are used for civic projects in the community.

Music will be provided by Nolan Tucker and his accordion band of 30 pieces.

Paul Selken, president of the Smithton Community Association, will serve as general chairman. Music and programming will be under the charge of Mayor B. B. Ehrig and Lloyd McK. The publicity committee consists of Earl Watkins and William Erling; grounds and equipment are under the care of John Daniels, Pollard Wood and Jake Klein; and the ice cream social will be handled by Cecil Smith, Mrs. L. W. Hoehns and Mrs. Arthur Henderson.

Directors of MoPac
To Talk Merger With Texas Pacific Road

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The directors of the Missouri Pacific Railroad were scheduled to discuss a proposed merger with the Texas and Pacific road today.

MoPac President Russell L. Dearmont said the directors would study a preliminary survey of the two railroads consolidated, the third longest railroad in track mileage in the nation would be created.

Any merger plan would have to be approved by the Interstate Commerce Commission and by stockholders of both railroads.

Women's Association
Has Regular Meeting

The Women's Association of Broadway Presbyterian Church met in the sanctuary of the church at 1 o'clock Thursday June 5th, for the regular meeting. The meeting was opened with prayer by Mrs. Leon Whitney the president, and the devotional meditation was given by Mrs. Charles Denny.

Special music was presented by the Sophomore Girl's Sextette under the direction of Mrs. William Faulkner. The program theme, "The Church Must Educate for all of Life," was carried out in the presentation of a skit entitled "This is your life, Mrs. Church Woman," directed by Mrs. R. C. Maag. Members taking part in the skit were: Mrs. Manning DeWitt, Mrs. H. W. Schrimsher, Mrs. W. T. Stevens, Mrs. William Faulkner, Mrs. James Hall, Mrs. John Miers, Mrs. Ralph Vanderkamp and Mrs. Maag.

Announcement was made that the president Mrs. Leon Whitney would attend the meeting of National Organization of Presbyterian Women to be held at Purdue University, Indiana, July 1-4.

Prospective exhibitors in the fair may obtain a premium book by writing to Ozark Empire Fair, P.O. Box 630, Springfield.

Premiums for this year's fair have been increased about 10 percent "across the board," Boyd said. Total premiums to be offered this year represent about $30,000.

Two new classes have been added this year—Landrace hogs and pigeons.

Calvin W. Foster, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Foster, Kansas City, formerly of Knob Noster, was graduated June 1 from the Missouri School of Mines at Rolla.

He received a Bachelor of Science degree in civil engineering and will be employed by the Missouri State Highway Department out of the Kansas City office.

Asks Disabled
To See Social Security Soon

Some of the disabled persons in this area may forfeit their right to future benefits for themselves and their families unless they contact the social security office before July 1, according to Thomas F. Nash, manager of the Sedalia social security office.

Nash pointed out that the social security law provides for monthly benefits for persons between ages 50 and 65 who have worked under social security for a specified period of time and who are severely disabled and are not able to engage in any substantial gainful activity. Disabled workers under 50 years of age are not entitled to monthly disability benefits, but they may have their earnings records frozen to protect their future right to benefits.

Nash explained that by "freezing" an earnings record, the period of unemployment caused by disability will be disregarded in figuring the amount of any future benefit. Since the amount of social security benefits is based on the worker's average monthly earnings, the "freezing" of an account is an important step in protecting that account. Unless the earnings record is frozen the years a person is disabled could result in reduced benefits for the worker, reduced benefits for his family in the event of his death, or could result in the complete loss of his benefit rights.

Monthly benefits to a steadily increasing number of disabled children are being paid. There is no July 1st time limit on these applications. The benefits can be retroactive up to 12 months but can be paid even to those children who are past 18 years of age. The requirements as Mr. Nash explained were that the child be so physically or mentally handicapped that he could not engage in any substantial work. The child must be dependent upon a parent who is either now receiving his own retirement benefit, or the child must have been dependent upon a deceased parent at the time of the parent's death. Because this type of payment could first have been made in January, 1957, some families are losing money because their applications have not been filed sooner. An inquiry to the Sedalia Social Security office requesting an application for a disabled child of any age could possibly save this loss of benefits.

Ozark Empire Fair
Sends Premium Books

Premium books for the 22nd annual Ozark Empire Fair, Aug. 9-15 in Springfield, now are going into the mail, Secretary-Manager G. B. Boyd reports.

The 200-page book is going to exhibitors, county extension agents, farm youth leaders, vocational agriculture instructors, news agencies and others in the four-state area.

Prospective exhibitors in the fair may obtain a premium book by writing to Ozark Empire Fair, P.O. Box 630, Springfield.

Premiums for this year's fair have been increased about 10 percent "across the board," Boyd said. Total premiums to be offered this year represent about $30,000.

Two new classes have been added this year—Landrace hogs and pigeons.

Drama Inside Brain

Surgical Discovery Gives Hope
To Parkinson's Disease Victims

Editor's Note: This month in New York neurosurgeons from all over the world gathered for a three-day symposium to consider advances in brain surgery for Parkinsonism—a disease that literally shakes its victims to death.

By WARD CANNEL
NEA Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK—Everybody stops to listen. The X-ray men, the nurses, the anesthetist, the students—even the surgeon who discovered the miraculous new operation. Everybody listens while two middle-aged women gossip in the corridor outside the operating room at St. Barnabas Hospital.

"How do you feel?" a woman's voice asks.

"Wonderful," the second woman answers. "Look."

Everybody looks.

Chempallidectomy operation patient No. 709, lying on the rolling stretcher that has brought her out of the operating room, closes and opens her fist, spreads her fingers, holds her arm outstretched—all for the first time in 15 years.

Another case of Parkinson's Disease—the shaking palsy—has been cured of what an hour ago had been uncontrollable tremor

Honored With Bridal Shower

A miscellaneous shower was given Saturday evening, May 31, in the basement of St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Cole Camp, honoring Miss Lois Jean Behrens, who will be married Friday evening, June 6, to LeRoy Viebrock. The hostesses were Mrs. Judy Riemen-schneider, Mrs. Otto Holsten, Mrs. Harold Loman, Mrs. Dorothy Baile, Mrs. Rudy Brauer, Mrs. Fred Grabau and Miss Betty June Viebrock.

Different games were played with prizes going to the bride-to-be. The tables were decorated with flowers and portraits of the bride and groom. Wedding bells tied with pink ribbons and roses draped the table. Refreshments were served. The honoree received many nice gifts.

Those attending were: the honoree, Mrs. Alvin T. Behrens, Mrs. Willie Viebrock, Mrs. Ethelene Gerken, Mrs. Erma Lee Tucker, Mrs. Shirley Cash, Miss Violet Viebrock, Mrs. Leatrice Wischmeier, Mrs. Elmer K. Kuhlmann, Miss Margaret Brauer, Miss Janette Eickhoff, Mrs. Gertrude Beckman, Mrs. Norene Ives, Mrs. Alma Schlesselman, Mrs. Alma Gerken, Mrs. Nora Beckman, Mrs. R. J. Behrens, Mrs. Herbert Eickhoff, Mrs. Ethel Schlesselman, and Mrs. Walter Viebrock.

Those unable to attend, but who sent gifts, were: Mrs. Betty Schroeder, Miss Eldeen Bockelman, Miss Helen Rehmer, Mrs. Gale Viebrock, Mrs. Myloh Mae, Miss Laveria Baile, Miss Geraldine Viebrock, Mrs. Rose Mary Carier, Miss Norma Schroeder, Miss Edna Stoerner, Mrs. Earl Meyer, Miss Kathleen Goetz, Mrs. Otto Behrens, Mrs. Arlene Schlesselman, Mrs. Norma Jean Vonhollen, Mrs. Mary Lou Wood, Mrs. Betty Jean Pritzel, Mrs. Fern Baile, Mrs. Darlene Fajen, Mrs. William Vonhollen, Miss Virginia Vonhollen, Miss Florence Vonhollen, Miss Anna Lou Brunjes, Miss Loraine Jagels, Miss Sharon Boesch, Mrs. Albert Viebrock, and Miss Sandra Jean Brauer.

Frozen Strawberries
Give Police Trouble

CARTHAGE, MO. (AP) — What would you do if you had 54,340 pounds of frozen strawberries, and other perishable foods, on your hands on a hot day?

That problem faced highway patrolmen here yesterday. After four hours, they checked it back to the man who had the responsibility originally.

The situation developed when the patrol arrested William Gordon Sproull, 34, of Joplin on a charge that his refrigerated truck was 6,308 pounds overweight. Sproull didn't have $570 to pay his fine, so he went to jail. The truck stood out in the sun. The temperature was 88.

A telegram to Sproull's employer, Charles Dale Cote of Hampton, Iowa, brought money to release the driver, who quickly started the truck's engine—and its refrigeration unit.

You have seen these prisoners of their own muscles. Their involuntary trembling and progressive rigidity in many cases have cut them off from the simplest acts of daily living. They cannot walk, write, lie down, get up. Their faces are expressionless. Their voices are inaudible.

Across the corridor, chempallidectomy patient No. 710, on her way to undergo the operation, tries to smile. She would like to reach out to success, but her brain will not let her muscles do it.

Dr. Irvin S. Cooper takes her tortured, trembling hand. "Wait a little while," he says. "Just a little while."

This tall, broad-shouldered, blond fellow is the neurosurgeon who will perform the delicate brain operation that is known around the world as a chempallidectomy. He discovered it, perfected it, defended it. And now he is teaching it to any surgeon who wants to learn.

Case No. 710, her scalp shaved, is wheeled into the X-ray room. Her head is marked, measured and pictures taken of her brain. Then local anesthesia is administered, because the patient must be awake to indicate the progress of the operation.

Until Cooper's discovery, it did not matter because surgery for Parkinsonism cured symptoms by paralyzing the patient—if he lived. What Cooper discovered ("By accident, experience and logic") was a practical way to get to the well of the disease: Two motor areas of the brain called the globus pallidus and the thalamus.

That was six years ago—when he was not quite 30.

Today, his method is acknowledged.

Will Transport Body
Of Revolutionary War
Hero to Saint Louis

A Revolutionary War veteran's body is being moved from its grave in Kentucky to the national military cemetery at Jefferson Barracks in St. Louis, and his descendants, including those throughout Missouri, are being invited to attend the reburial. It will be conducted at 3 p.m. June 20.

The veteran was Richard Gentry, an 18-year-old boy in the colonial army at the capture of British General Cornwallis at Yorktown, when the final crushing blow was dealt the British forces. After the Revolution, he was one of the pioneer settlers of Kentucky. He was the father of 19 children, and eight of his sons moved to Missouri before it became a state.

One of those sons, also named Richard Gentry, was killed in the Seminole Indian War in Florida in 1837 and was buried at Jefferson Barracks, and his father's body will be reburied next to him.

Permission for the reburial was obtained by the Revolutionary veteran's great-grandson, William R. Gentry, Jr., who plans to have the descendants meet at his home after the ceremony. His home is at 6626 Pershing Ave. in St. Louis.

Until now, the body has been buried in a grave in the abandoned Gentry burying ground in Madison County, Kentucky.

Students at the school are trained to operate transmitters, radio direction finders, teletypewriters and radio receiving equipment. They also are taught to transmit and receive messages by International Morse Code and type in coming messages.

The 8-week course convened May 12.

That problem faced highway patrolmen here yesterday. After four hours, they checked it back to the man who had the responsibility originally.

The situation developed when the patrol arrested William Gordon Sproull, 34, of Joplin on a charge that his refrigerated truck was 6,308 pounds overweight. Sproull didn't have $570 to pay his fine, so he went to jail. The truck stood out in the sun. The temperature was 88.

A telegram to Sproull's employer, Charles Dale Cote of Hampton, Iowa, brought money to release the driver, who quickly started the truck's engine—and its refrigeration unit.

ledged around the world. Patients of all ages can be treated unless certain mental or physical diseases might jeopardize their recovery. This own measure of success with his method has just been presented at a three-day symposium among doctors considering advances in brain surgery for involuntary movement disorders at New York University-Bellevue Medical Center.

Patients who were operated on as long ago as five years were on hand, explaining by their presence what advances brain surgery has made against the shaking palsy.

This morning's second pallidectomy patient is wheeled into the operating room while her X-rays are set up for the staff to study.

"All right," the surgeon says. "We're going here," and he points with a pencil to a spot about six inches into the brain from the back of the head.

It will taken him and his two resident-surgeons about an hour to travel these six inches.

Raines Makes Highest Score IN 4-H Event

Bill Raines, Lamine 4-H Club, made the highest score in the Pettis County 4-H dairy judging contest on June 4.

The 4-H members with the four high scores which will constitute the Pettis County 4-H Dairy Judging team are as follows: Bill Raines, 604; William Finley, 582; Tommy Grimes, 568; and Ernie Dow, 530. All four of these boys will enter the district 4-H dairy judging contest at Springfield, Mo., on Aug. 11. The district 4-H dairy judging team will be selected at Springfield from the contestants in the southwest district. This year each of the four Pettis County 4-H'ers enter the district event individually rather than a team, which means that one or all four are trying out for the district team.

Jerseys: William Finley, 217; Ernie Dow, 210; Tommy Grimes, 195; Bill Raines, 190; Jerry Hoehns, 185; Ella Dow, 170; and Charles Buttemier, 170.

Holsteins: Bill Raines, 215; Ernie Dow, 195; William Finley, 195; Bobbie Harrison, 180; Tommy Grimes, 170; and Darrell Williams, 160.

Guernseys: Tommy Grimes, 203; Bill Raines, 199; William Finley, 170; Harold Harrison, 160; and Bobbie Harrison, 160.

The 4-H members who judged all six classes on June 4 and will be awarded ribbons at the county 4-H Achievement Day are as follows: blue, Bill Raines, William Finley, Tommy Grimes, Ernie Dow; red, Darrell Williams, Harold Martin, Charles Buttemier, Bobbie Harrison, and Jerry Hoehns; white, Allen Armstrong, Ella Dow and Howard Hamrick.

Other 4-H dairy members who judged, but did not judge all classes are: Harold Harrison, Paul Holman, Mickey Selken, and Larry Lewellen. Richard and Gary Harrison were not 4-H dairy members but were along and did some practice judging.

The judging session was held at the Paul Selken, Earl Wood, and Sam Freund farms. A practice session was held on May 28 at Gerald Volpp, J. H. Bagby and Lawrence Funk farms.

Artistic Dancers Perform for Luncheon

Pupils of the Harper School of Artistic Dance entertained at the Welcome Wagon Newcomers luncheon Friday at Bothwell Hotel.

The program consisted of the Hawaiian Cha Cha by Stephanie Anderson, Sharon Hume, Mary McCabe, Linda Matthews and Patricia Zarnowec; Julie Harvey, five years old, did a toe ballet routine; Sue Wissman and Margaret Shoe teamed up for a duet; Rock and Roll was presented in ballet by Linda Bryden, Ellen Cromley, Karen Hicks, Linda Ledbetter, Gloria Smith and Barbara Wanderpool; Sandra Smith danced to Frank Sinatra's "All the Way" and Carla Dumsday did a hula number.

The meeting was presided over by Hazel Guffin, president, and the newest member, Helen Mitchell, was presented a corsage, with the door prize going to Mabel McCullom.

The remainder of the afternoon was spent in playing cards with Helen Mitchell receiving high in bridge and Leta Sydenstricker, low.

Dee Van Winkle Wins Coveted Sales Award

Dee O. Van Winkle, Sedalia, received the coveted Company Award on behalf of himself and his local general agency at the annual sales conference of the Security Benefit Life Insurance Co., held at the Hotel del Coronado, Coronado, Calif., June 12-15. The award was presented on the basis of the general agency having sold the largest volume of insurance during 1957.

In making the award, J. H. Abrahams, president of the Company, said, "I am proud to present this award to you for the outstanding production you and your associates did during 1957. Last year, our production set a new company record, 90 million dollars in new life insurance sales, and the efforts of you and your men contributed substantially to this total."

Van Winkle attended the conference as a guest of the 66-year-old mutual, legal reserve company and met with other leading underwriters from 30 states and the home office in Topeka, Kan.

Multi-Workers Meet; Make Future Plans

The Van Natta Multi-Workers Club had its May meeting at the T. J. Hancock home, with ten members, eight parents and three visitors, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Neitzert and daughter, attending.

Several demonstrations were given by the members. Plans were made for all dairy boys to attend the meeting, May 23, to judge dairy calves, with their leader, George Buchholz, Jr.

It was decided upon for the Junior leaders to make safety checks to promote the Farm and Home Fire Safety program. Food preparation classes will have a picnic for the club members and their families, June 22.

Prefer Simple Weddings

Moonbeams Mixed With Money Rule Teenager's Wedding Plans

By EUGENE GILBERT

It looks like the hard-pressed father of the bride may be able to relax one of these days. His teen-age sons—and, more important, his daughters—are leaning toward small, informal weddings. This in face of the fact that actual weddings these days are reported to be more lavish and elaborate than ever.

Our latest survey of youthful thought in America came up with the information that only three girls out of seven and one boy in four say now that they would prefer being married with pomp and ceremony.

And there are indications that those who want a formal wedding are influenced by the fact that they feel their parents expect it of them.

"I would like to make it very simple out mother would have a fit," said Ann Clark of Jacksonville, Fla. "After all, I'm her only daughter and she's been looking forward to my wedding since the day I was born."

Nevertheless, if they want a big wedding or a small one, the teenagers are almost unanimous in the feeling that they should not share in the wedding expenses. Ninety five per cent of them felt that way.

Parental blessing, as well as dad's check book, also is important to altar-bound youth. Less than one per cent of the youngsters told us they would like to elope. They're suspicious of elopement marriages.

"My brother eloped," said a Chicago boy. "By the time my mother and dad forgave him, he and his wife were separated."

On the other hand, an 18-year-old Colorado girl confided.

"The way it looks, the only way I can get married is to elope. My mother almost dies every time I seem to be interested in a man, although my friends, many of them, are engaged already."

Many fewer than one per cent of those polled said they thought their mothers or fathers would like to have them elope.

More teen agers want to be married in private homes than any other place. There again they are lying in the face of the known popularity of the church wedding right now.

One in five told us they'd prefer being married in their own homes and one in eight said they'd choose

Beta Sigma Phi Has Last Meeting of Year

The last scheduled meeting for the year of Epsilon Beta, Beta Sigma Phi was held at the home of Mrs. Betty Wear. The program for the evening was presented by Mrs. Martha Burkholder.

Plans for the annual ice cream social were made. The big affair is to be on Friday, July 11th in the Court House parking lot. A call meeting has been set for Monday, June 23rd to go over last minute details for the social. There will be lots of goodies to eat so hope many will stop by for refreshments.

Epsilon Beta's are planning to adopt a family as their service project for the coming year. The girls are all enthusiastic over helping to make the coming year a happy one for a special family.

A picnic is to be held this Saturday, June 14th at 6:30 p.m. at the Liberty Park.

The yardstick for the year was figured and Epsilon Beta is again ranked as a three-star chapter.

A social hour followed the business meeting. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Bonnie Schumaker and Mrs. Catherine Smith.

4-H Club Enjoys Potluck Supper

The Windsor Corners 4-H Club held their monthly meeting at the Ed Miles home with a pot luck supper. There were eight members and 11 visitors present.

Linda Colwell gave a demonstration on health and Jimmie Dale Sims gave one on care of horses. Plans for Share-the-Fun Night were discussed; also for a hayride and Wiener roast. Linda Colwell was to attend the 4-H Club Week in Columbia.

The next meeting will be in July at the City Hall in Windsor.

Pvt. Hunt Completes Combat Training

Army Pvt. William R. Hunt recently completed eight weeks of basic combat training with the 2nd Armored Division at Fort Hood, Tex. Hunt, 22, was employed by the Missouri Pacific Railroad before entering the Army. He is a 1953 graduate of Clarksburg High School. His father, Charles R. Hunt, lives in Clarksburg.

Guests at Kiwanis

Guests at Sedalia Kiwanis meeting in Bothwell Hotel Thursday noon were: the Rev. Roy Stribling with the Rev. Walter Niles; John Kickham, St. Louis, with C. R. Roese; O'Dell Hillburn with Sylvan Woolery; Tom Thurston, Peoria, Ariz.; with C. R. Hemphill.

Invocation was by Joe Allen. Singing was led by Abe Rosen-thal with Mildred Reed as piano accompanist.

the home of a friend or relative. One in five wanted a hotel or other public building.

It is not strange that the girls, who are more apt to like a pompous wedding than the boys, also lean more toward a church wedding. Roughly one out of three want a church wedding—37 per cent of the girls and 24 per cent of the boys.

Both practicality and moonbeams ruled the teen-agers' thoughts as to the length of honeymoon they should have. For the practical, money is the guide.

"I'd like to have my honeymoon as long as possible," said a 17-year-old Bronx, N.Y., boy, "but I think it is going to be very short because I don't think I'm going to have much money."

"As long as my husband can afford is the time I would like my honeymoon," said Judy Fox of Syracuse, N.Y.

"I'd love to go to Paris but probably wouldn't have the money," a New Jersey girl told us.

"My whole life would be a honeymoon," sighed starry-eyed Linda of Syracuse, N.Y.

About two out of three teenagers would like a month's honeymoon

Woman's Society Has Meeting at Methodist Church

The Woman's Society of Christian Service of the First Methodist Church met June 5.

The Barnes Circle was hostess to a dessert luncheon at 1 p.m. The topic for the program, "Christ's Message For Today" was opened with quiet music with Mrs. C. D. Demand at the piano.

The memorial service for Mrs. Jake Cline, Mrs. A. A. Hall, Mrs. Leona Hartnett, Mrs. Fletcher and Mrs. Grace Stephenson was given by Mrs. Lee Peabody.

Mrs. Emmet Fairfax, soloist, sang, "God's Tomorrow."

The Spiritual Life lesson was presented by Miss Elsie Swan, assisted by the following women, each dressed in the costume of the country they represented: Mrs. Walter Rissler, Malaya; Mrs. G. A. Ragland, Bolivia; Mrs. Earl Cline, college instructor; Mrs. Glenn Stewart, Japan; Mrs. Vernon Rodick, United States; Mrs. Ira Barnes, Southern Rhodesia and Mrs. Alice McKendree, India.

Mrs. T. A. Huffine, who was a delegate of the Sedalia District, to the General Assembly in St. Louis, brought a very inspiring message of that meeting.

Mrs. Charles Arnest presented Mrs. Charles Maggard with a life membership pin and Miss Elsie Swan presented Mrs. Vernon Rodick with a life pin.

Mrs. Earl Crawford, the president, presided over the business meeting.

Mrs. T. A. Huffine closed the meeting with prayer.

4-H at Flat Creek Holds May Meeting

The Flat Creek 4-H Club met Tuesday, May 27, at the home of Mrs. James Yount, 2510 Stevenson. Eighteen attended the meeting of which Miss Geraldine Dane, Eldon, was a guest.

Mrs. Charles Keele presided over the meeting. Mrs. Jerome Murray gave the devotional, and Mrs. Robert Pattorf and Mrs. Isaac Snow reported on food preservation. Mrs. E. R. Wilhoit read the newsletter. The club then discussed building of a barbecue and voted to repair and restore the club chairs. It also voted to have the gavel, which was presented to the president by the Flat Creek 4-H Club, engraved.

A Mother's Day program was presented by Mrs. D. F. Perkins and Mrs. C. L. Wadleigh. Four birthdays were celebrated, and the pal box was opened.

The next meeting will convene at the home of Mrs. Henry Alt, Route 1, on June 24. Auction will be held at this meeting. Please bring clothing, vegetables, meat, etc. The program, "Color in the Home," will also be given.

Lions Elect Wolfe As District Governor

A. J. Wolfe of Pilot Grove was elected Governor of District 26-C, State of Missouri, at the State Lions Convention held in St. Joseph.

Wolfe is past president of the Pilot Grove club for the year of 1955 and 56. In 1956 he served as zone chairman, and in 1957 as deputy district governor. He has a perfect attendance in the Pilot Grove Lions Club since March 1952, and is the first Lion of Cooper County to be elected district governor.

A native of Pettis County, Wolfe was graduated from the Pilot Grove high school, and served four and a half years in the Marine Corps. He is a member of the Pilot Grove Methodist Church.

He is the son of Mrs. Lee Wolfe of Pilot Grove and the late Mr. Wolfe. He was married to Bettie Schlotzhour of Pilot Grove and they own and operate the Pilot Grove Cafe.

Barbara Galajda, 14, of Yonkers, N.Y., figures two weeks would be an appropriate time for the bride and groom to get to know each other but, she adds:

"A true honeymoon should last the rest of married life."

Honeymoons didn't mean too much to two girls we interviewed. "All I want is a nice groom," said a Baltimore lass.

"I don't think I'll get married in the first place," said a bitter 16-year-old.

We'll ask her again in a couple of years.

Rodney Garnett Gives Speech to Junior Leaders

Guest speaker at the Pettis County 4-H Junior Leaders Council June 3 at the courthouse assembly room was Rodney Garnett. Rodney was an International Foreign Youth Exchange delegate to Norway last summer. He lived with four different families in Norway. Learning their habits and customs, and experiencing the joys and hardships made Rodney feel like one to the family. Rodney explained that his relationship with his friends did not end when he left Norway but had just begun.

Quisenberry and Flat Creek 4-H Clubs had perfect attendance at the council meeting; therefore, their names will be put on Mr. Henpeck for this month.

Larry Wilson reported on the Buying and Wearing Clothes project meeting. The subject that was discussed at the meeting was the care of clothes.

The Council voted to have an exhibit at the State Fair this year. The following committee was appointed to supervise and construct the exhibit: Glenda Rhodes, chairman, Sara Oswald, William Finley, Patti Ball, Carolee Shirley, and Kim Dabner.

A committee was appointed for the picnic which will be held at the next meeting. Members of the committee were: Clifford Chapell, chairman, Don Welliver, Larry Wilson, Cathy DeBord, and Wanda Williams.

A litterbug skit was presented by the litterbug committee. Members in the skit were: Glenda Rhodes, narrator; Dean Raines, Highway Patrolman; Jeannett Edmondson, and Zora Snow, drunken drivers.

Easily Made Barbecue Chopping Block Needed by Outdoor Cooks

Roll-away cart with chopping block top is a project for the handy man who does it himself in the cook-out department, too.

By MR. FIX
Distributed by NEA Service

Go to work on this portable outdoor barbecue block first, and you can go to work on steaks, chops and other candidates for the grill later.

Dimensions given are "for instance." Adapt them to suit your particular needs.

Standard shop tools are all you need for the project, but a good 1/4-inch drill would save a lot of work. A sander, preferably of the double-action type, quickly gives the chopping block the smooth, smooth finish you'll value in the completed product.

Lumber you'll need: Nine pieces 2x2, each 28 inches long for the top. Better make that select hardwood, too. Handles (sides pieces of frame top), two pieces 1x2x24 inches, each 34 inches long. Stretcher, two pieces 1x2x24 inches, each 10 inches long. Legs, four pieces, 2x2 inches, each 28 inches long. Shelves, two pieces, 1x2x12 inches, each 22 inches long.

Hardware you'll need: Four heavy-duty casters, eight angle irons, three metal bolt rods, one box of 1/2-inch No. 10 flathead wood screws.

Cut stock to lengths indicated. Assemble stretchers and handle (sides) pieces with nails and glue, using plain butt joints.

Drill and countersink legs from the inside for attaching the framework of stretchers and handle pieces.

Notch shelves to accommodate legs and attach to glued-and-nailed cleats on legs. Nail or screw shelves in place.

Your angle irons will be used to secure chopping block to frame. "Top secret" — Top pieces must be tested for straightness. You'd better use a steel square. Plane high spots until pieces are as true as you can make them. You want that top to fit tight so that the food doesn't collect in cracks. Ends should be perfectly squared, too.

Arrange top pieces so that curves of the end grain are in opposite directions, to minimize warping in the finished product.

Drill 2x2's two inches in from each end and at the 14-inch midpoint. Here's where that drill comes in handy. If you can assemble several pieces in a jig or use a drill press, so much the better.

Your outer members should be countersunk to take rods and bolts. Bolt top together, and plug countersunk bolts with glued dowel for a finished job.

It's best to let top stand awhile before plugging, in case you need to draw up bolts for a tighter fit. Sand the top with the double-action, reciprocating sander. Sanding can be done by hand, of

David Rose Is Prone to SteamEngines

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—When you see Dave Rose conducting his smooth music for the Red Skelton TV show, you'd scarcely suspect that he's a steam engine addict.

The suave conductor-composer has it bad. He not only has one of the world's largest collections of miniature steam engines; he even has a steam train that runs around his San Fernando Valley home.

"Every Saturday, I blow the whistle and the kids come from all over the neighborhood," he said.

When Dave clicked as a composer 20 years ago, he began shoving the profit into steam. He collected engines from all over the world and developed his own miniature train, a knee-high affair that will pull 150 people.

"Disneyland started right here," Dave said proudly as he surveyed the track in his backyard. "Years ago, Walt Disney came here to see my train because he was thinking of getting one of his own."

You know it's got to be a mania for Dave because it isn't deductible. Out here, celebrities hardly ever put so much money into something unless it earns a profit or an income tax deduction.

"I sometimes use the train for publicity," he explained, "but otherwise, the expense is pure outgo."

"But I think it's worth it. There's nothing I like better than to get up a steam or take an engine apart."

The diversion provides welcome relief from the rigors of Dave's musical life. A perfectionist, he composes and arranges most of his own material. Besides the Skelton show, he does the Shower of Stars and other programs. His record albums are best sellers and he sometimes does a movie score.

Then he keeps up a steady schedule of concerts. This week he was in Portland, Ore., conducting at the Rose Festival. Today he leaves for Europe to scout the possibilities of doing some concerts over there this summer.

OBITUARIES

Peter Harms

Peter Harms, 91, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Melvin Collins, 914 East 6th, at 1 p. m. Thursday. He had been ill for the past eleven months.

Harms was born at Cole Camp, April 25, 1867, the son of the late Peter and Dorothy Damann Harms. His boyhood was spent at Cole Camp and he lived most of his life at Lake Creek.

One of a family of ten children, he was preceded in death by seven brothers and two sisters.

He was married at Lake Creek, Oct. 8, 1896, to Miss Tinka Renken. They were the parents of nine children. Two children died in infancy and one daughter, Mrs. Eric Heimsoth, died several years ago.

Harms was a member of the St. Paul's Lutheran Church.

He is survived by two daughters: Mrs. Melvin Collins, at whose home he passed away; Mrs. Albert Meisner, Mora; four sons, Harry Harms, Route 1, Walter Harms, Marvin Harms and Andrew Harms, all of Cole Camp. 35 grandchildren and 32 great-grandchildren also survive.

Funeral services will be held at the St. Paul's Lutheran Church at 1 p. m. Saturday.

The Rev. Walter Strickert, pastor, will officiate.

Six grandsons will serve as pallbearers: Victor Heimsoth, Molburn Meisner, J. A. Schnakenberg, Joe Karmen, Jimmy Harms and Marvin Harms.

Burial will be in the Lake Creek Cemetery south of Cole Camp.

The body is at the Ewing Funeral Home.

Mrs. Martha J. Lipscomb

Mrs. Martha J. Lipscomb, 84, formerly of Knob Noster, died Wednesday in a hospital in Brownsville, Tex., where she had been a patient for three weeks. She was the widow of James Lipscomb and had made her home with a son, Wallace Lipscomb of Brownsville for 15 years.

Mrs. Lipscomb was born Feb. 24, 1874, in Johnson County and was a daughter of Moses and Mary Fugua Adcock.

She is survived by two sons: Wallace, Brownsville, Tex.; L. W. Lipscomb, Sedalia; three daughters, Mrs. Mary Street, Pasco, Wash.; Mrs. Carl Rasmussen, Lind, Wash.; and Mrs. Clyde Van Blarum, Warrensburg; a brother, M. T. Adcock, Knob Noster, eight grandchildren, five great-grandchildren and two great-great-grandchildren.

The body will arrive at the Saults-Brauninger Funeral Home in Knob Noster Saturday afternoon.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Sunday at the Knob Noster Christian Church with the Rev. J. N. Darnell, Leeton, officiating.

Pallbearers will be M. B. Burge, Raymond Reynolds, of Warrensburg, Theodore Klindworth, Sedalia, Roscoe Bagby, Knob Noster, Vernon Lane, Leeton and Hugh Kimsey, LaMonte.

Burial will be in the Liberty Cemetery north of Warrensburg.

To Go to Trial For Slaying Of Football Player

BENTON, Mo. (AP)—Lynn Wayne Hester, an 18-year-old St. Louis youth, will go on trial tomorrow for the slaying of a Charleston, Mo., high school football star more than a year ago.

Pros. Atty. Weber Gilmore said he will ask the death penalty in the circuit court trial.

The football star, John Malugen, was shot to death Jan. 5, 1957, as he was parked on a lonely road near Sikeston, Mo., with a girl companion. The girl was then dragged across a cotton field to an abandoned cabin and raped.

Sheriff John Dennis said Hester has signed a statement admitting the slaying. Joe Lester Slayton of Chaffee, Mo., identified as Hester's companion, later admitted the attack on the girl, county officers said.

Hester was arrested at his home in Wellston, a St. Louis suburb, after Slayton, an inmate at the State Training School in Booneville, had written his mother in Chaffee telling of the shooting and implicating Hester.

Employment Security Building To Get Wing

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—A half million dollar addition to the employment security building here—the second wing to be added since the original structure was completed five years ago—is scheduled for bids around Aug. 1.

The new wing, two stories above ground and two below, will add 23,000 square feet of floor space to the structure that now contains 42,776 square feet of space. Plans and specifications are being prepared.

Man's Body Is Found Lodged Under Barge

KANSAS CITY (AP)—A man's body was found today partly lodged under a barge tied up on the Missouri River.

It apparently had been in the water a long time. The man was described as about 5 feet 11 inches tall, between 35 and 55 years old with graying hair. He weighed 130 to 140 pounds.

Survey Shows Milk Retail Prices Are Up

WASHINGTON, (AP)—An Agriculture Department survey showed today that retail milk prices have risen in the last year despite a drop in dairy price supports.

The department said that in 25 representative marketing areas of the country, retail prices of home-delivered fluid milk averaged 25 cents a quart. This was seven-tenths of a cent above the average of a year earlier.

On the other hand, Kansas City and Seattle reported a one-cent decline from a year ago.

Defense Plans For Satellite Detection Net

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Defense Department said Thursday it plans to have in operation by the end of the year a radio-radar network that could detect even a silent satellite passing over the United States.

Work will begin immediately, said an announcement from the department's Advanced Research Projects Agency.

It said one of the main purposes is to insure that silent satellites, which could pose a military threat will not be able to orbit over the United States without being detected and tracked.

Scientists have said that in the present state of space work, satellites are unlikely to be of immediate military use.

New techniques could lead to satellites becoming space spies virtually incapable of interception, signaling back information to their masters, they said.

The ARPA director, Roy W. Johnson, disclosed the new project June 11. He told a Senate Armed Services subcommittee that scientists were perfecting the kind of a radar that would detect any satellite passing over the United States, no matter how small.

The plan is to send up radar signals which would reflect from any object stealing through space. The waves that bounce back would provide information as to the object's orbit and speed.

The new project will continue the satellite tracking operations now being conducted by the United States under the International Geophysical Year which will end Dec. 31.

The Pentagon shared the assignment between the Army and Navy.

There was no cost estimate. Last week Johnson said it would not be a great sum; that "in the language of the street, it will be good, but cheap and dirty."

Church Appoints W. Wallace Smith New President

INDEPENDENCE, Mo. (AP)—The Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints announced today that W. Wallace Smith has been designated to become president of the church.

He will succeed his half-brother, Israel A. Smith, 82, who was killed last Saturday in a highway accident. Wallace Smith has been a member of the first presidency and as such was a counselor to the late president.

Wallace Smith formerly was in the hardware business in Independence. He is 57 years old and a grandson of Joseph Smith Jr., founder of the Mormon faith.

Smith is a 1923 graduate of the University of Missouri. He was a college football and basketball player.

Church officials yesterday learned that Israel Smith left a document requesting the designation of his half-brother as head of the church. Its international headquarters are in Independence.

The spokesman said the designation will be presented for approval to quorums and councils of the church and to the general conference of delegates and ministers when they convene Oct. 5.

Requests Return Of Teacher; Was Not Un-American

HANOVER, N.J. (AP)—The Hanover Park Regional School Board, ruling that a teacher cannot be punished for what her students think, has asked LeMoyn Goodman to return to her teaching job next fall.

In a 17-page report read at a public meeting here Wednesday night, the board declared:

"In no way has Miss Goodman's conduct been Un-American or unpatriotic."

The board's decision climaxed a controversy that erupted when the 26-year-old teacher published three student essays in "Triad," the Hanover Park High School monthly publication.

The essays, selected from about 60 written by Miss Goodman's English class, were highly critical of the atom bombing of Hiroshima. The students had read "Hiroshima" by John Hersey.

Veterans groups demanded Miss Goodman's ouster.

Miss Goodman submitted her resignation last June 11. The tall, soft-spoken blonde said that she had been guilty of an "error in judgment."

In asking her to return, the board said Miss Goodman had erred in not publishing an editors note with the essays to explain the context in which they were being offered.

dick, president of the Sedalia firm, assured Barnes no representative of the firm had intended offense.

Barnes also complained of the national publicity given the case by columnist Drew Pearson. Rodick said Pearson had not obtained his information from the company.

The conversation between Rodick and Barnes, in which Rodick's Washington lawyer Paul O'Brien, participated, made it clear that the Sedalia firm will not get this contract even if the award to U.M. & F. is upset.

Northside Bible School Closes Today

The Northside Ministerial Union Bible School, officially closes Friday night, with a Commencement Exercise at Ward Memorial Baptist Church at 7:30 p. m. Parents of the children, as well as the public, are invited to attend this service. There will be a program which will include all of the classes that participated in the Bible School.

This year the enrollment was far above that of last year. This year's enrollment totaled 162 pupils and 11 teachers and helpers. Largest enrollment to date is among the Beginners, or Kindergarten, pupils with 35 on the roll. The Primary Department had such a large enrollment that two classes had to be formed with 23 in one and 30 in the other, making a total of 53. All other classes have at least 20 persons or over.

Teachers participating in the school this year are: Prof. W. L. Jackson, of Oxford, Neb., who is the guest teacher, and music director for the school; Mrs. Nancy Williams; Mrs. J. E. Erickson; Miss Barbara Sue Elbert; The Rev. J. E. Erickson and The Rev. W. H. Hickman; Mrs. Alberta President; Mrs. Gwendolyn Williams; Mrs. Dorothy Lee; Mrs. Price Alexander; Mrs. Betty Robinson; Mrs. Ruby Davis, and Phyllis Cason. The Rev. J. E. Gillum was Dean of the Bible School, and the following Ministers had charge of the morning devotions the second week: Monday, June 16, The Rev. H. L. Wilson; Tuesday, June 17, The Rev. W. H. Hickman, Wednesday, June 18, The Rev. J. Y. Jackson, and Thursday, June 19, The Rev. J. E. Gillum. The Rev. J. E. Erickson, the host pastor, was in charge of the opening program of the school. On Friday, June 20, beginning at noon, a picnic was held at Hubbard Park, which featured a baseball game and other activities. Refreshments of hot dogs, buns, kool-aid were served. The Union was in charge of the picnic, assisted by teachers and parents of the pupils.

Circuit Court

Bess Marie Neth filed a petition for divorce against Charles Albert Neth in Circuit Court. George W. Anson will be the attorney for the plaintiff.

In Other Courts

Curtis Carroll Scott, 23, Knob Noster, was being held in the Johnson County jail at Warrensburg in connection with the robbery of the APCO service station in Knob Noster Sunday night.

Scott admitted the theft to Sheriff William O. Fortney and Roy A. Jones, prosecuting attorney, and gave a written statement of the occurrence.

A total of $311.36 was taken from a cash register in the filling station and an estimated $30 from a cigarette machine.

Leroy Noble, Route 1, Leeton, is being held in the Johnson County jail in Warrensburg to await trial in the circuit court in the October term on a charge of rape, after he waived a preliminary examination in magistrate court Tuesday on the charge and failed to post $5,000 appearance bond.

Noble is charged with raping the 16-year-old wife of a Whiteman Air Force Base airman in a deserted house near the Knob Noster State Park Friday afternoon after he lured the girl there by telling her he needed a baby sitter.

Prosecuting Attorney Roy A. Jones said Noble signed a statement admitting the deed and appeared in court.

Noble was arrested Monday afternoon by Deputy Sheriff Robert D. Williams and State Trooper Lyle D. Krumme in Warrensburg after Noble had been identified by a description given by the girl as well as his name, which he gave her.

KC Auto Sabotage Charge Blocks Talks

DETROIT (AP)—Company charges of sabotage in a Kansas City plant heightened tension Thursday in deadlocked contract negotiations between General Motors Corp. and the United Auto Workers Union.

GM accused unidentified employees of damaging the painted surfaces of 58 cars in the Fisher Body Plant at Kansas City, Mo.

UAW Vice President Leonard Woodcock, chief negotiator with GM, sent word to newsmen: "We didn't do it."

Woodcock later left a bargaining session in the GM Building and went to UAW headquarters, presumably to discuss the situation with other union leaders.
